CONSTITUTION TO BE AMENDED

Resolution Brought Before Commons at Ottawa Asks British Parliament to Widen Provinces' Taxation Powers Under B.N.A. Act

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 14.—The government today took the first step to amend the constitution, giving the provinces wider taxation powers, when Minister of Justice Lapointe moved a resolution in the House of Commons which, if passed, will result in amendments to the British North America Act by the United Kingdom Parliament.

The "Old Bill" Bus from London which visited Victoria a few days ago on the way to Vancouver for that city's jubilee will get a free license from the provincial government for traveling in parades on Vancouver streets. The government has agreed to remit the usual fee but "Old Bill" will have to carry a B.C. plate. By arrangement with the London authorities the famous old bus will not travel more than 500 miles while here.

BEER AND WINE VOTE SOUGHT

Cabinet to Consider Request of Victoria Moderation League

An attempt to have a plebiscite held in Victoria on the question of legalizing the sale of beer and wine in hotel dining rooms and standard restaurants has been renewed by the Victoria Moderation League, it was learned at the Legislative Building this morning.

The provincial cabinet is expected to consider the request tomorrow. Several months ago the Moderation League presented a petition to the government asking either to have sale of beer legalized by order-in-council, or to have a plebiscite ordered. The question was signed by 42 per cent of the registered voters on the list, with other names which brought it up to more than 80 per cent of the total voting strength.

At that time the government, after considering the legal and other angles to the matter, decided against changing the regulations by order-in-council.

There was doubt as to whether this was possible without legislative sanction. The question of a plebiscite was deferred in view of possible action by the Legislature.

The session went by without any move being made, so the moderationists have renewed their request for a plebiscite.

Whether it would be possible, if it is endorsed by plebiscite, to legalize beer and wine sale in this city alone, is said to be a point for legal authorities to decide.

DIRIGIBLE SETS NEW RECORD

Hindenburg at Frankfurt, Germany, After 49-hour Flight From U.S.

Associated Press
Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, May 14.—Surpassing all records for both eastward and westward commercial crossings of the Atlantic, the giant German zeppelin Hindenburg touched ground at 5:45 a.m. (8:45 p.m. Wednesday, P.T.) to end its first flight from North America.

The official flying time for the voyage from Lakehurst, N.J., was given as forty-nine hours three minutes, during which the great air cruiser covered 6,670 kilometres (4,146.75 miles).

The arrival signalled completion of its maiden round-trip between Germany and the United States with passengers, mails and freight.

Despite the early hour of its arrival, a great crowd gathered at the airfield and a Nazi band played lusty airs.

Associated Press
Seattle, May 14.—The naval radio station at Destruction Island today intercepted a message from the Northland Transportation Company steamship North Sea reporting "we're sinking" in Dixon Entrance, Alaska waters. The message was timed 11:02 a.m.

A short time later, coastguard division here received a wireless message from the cutter Alert stating she was picking up the 144 passengers and twenty of the crew who had taken to lifeboats.

A skeleton crew remained aboard the steamship in an effort to beach her behind Mexican Point, the Alert said.

ITALY EMPIRE SAYS CHAMBER

Fascist Deputies Cheer As They Ratify Mussolini's Act in Declaring Ethiopia Annexed

Rome, May 14.—The Chamber of Deputies clamorously and unanimously ratified the bill creating an Italian empire in the presence of Premier Mussolini and his entire government today.

The regimented deputies were uniformed in black shirts. They were enthusiastic.

Baron Pompeo Aloisi, head of the Italian delegation to the League of Nations, who had just returned from Geneva, watched the vote from a gallery. Near him were the ambassador of Japan and the minister of Austria.

Mussolini read the decree creating a new empire based on the conquest of Ethiopia, without comment. The deputies voted immediately, signifying their approval with cheers.

Military authorities said the work of placing soldiers back in civilian life was proceeding after a brief hesitation following Baron Aloisi's departure from Geneva. This, they said, was made possible by the belief the international situation will be greatly improved by the time the League Council meets again June 10.

They said they thought that as more time passes, the minds of Europeans would mature and more regard be shown for the Italian empire as an accomplished fact.

It Duca, speaking to the deputies, declared:

"The will of Victorians Rome in its African undertaking was expressed in the irrevocable affirmation by which, on Saturday, the grand council of Fascism proclaimed all Italians consecrated under the vow: 'The territories and the people which appertain to the empire of Ethiopia are placed under the whole and complete sovereignty of the kingdom of Italy. The title of Emperor of Ethiopia is assumed for himself and his successors by the King of Italy.'"

"Let us now consecrate, in the law of the state, these solemn determinations of the Fascist people."

It Duca also presented the decree naming Marshal Pietro Badoglio "Viceroy of Ethiopia."

Jack King, Eighteen, of Winnipeg, Submits When Cornered by Constable Louis Callan in Bathroom With Wound in Leg; Pleads Guilty to Breaking and Entering Charge; Shots in Bandit's Gun Were Blanks

Prowler's Gun Stolen From Appeal Court Judge's Home

Eighteen-year-old Jack King of Winnipeg pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of breaking and entering into the home of Charles F. Todd, 1041 St. Charles Street, yesterday evening. He was remanded until tomorrow morning when further charges will be preferred against him.

King was arrested last night after an exchange of shots in the hall of the Todd home with Constable Louis Callan, who effected his arrest single-handed, after wounding King in the leg.

Police were summoned to the Todd home by Miss E. Milloy, an employee of the household, shortly before 10:30 o'clock. Constable Callan attended with Patrol Driver Steve Dunnell.

On arrival at the house the police saw someone moving around on the veranda.

Constable Callan, who formerly held the amateur middleweight and light-heavyweight boxing championship of B.C., instructed Driver Dunnell to keep watch on the outside. He was admitted to the home and commenced a search through the upstairs rooms.

It was in the hallway upstairs, lit only by the light from the downstairs hall, that the officer first encountered King.

While the constable was searching one of the bedrooms, King came out of another bedroom, into the hall.

"Stay where you are," ordered Constable Callan with drawn gun as he saw King in the dim light.

"Get back or I'll shoot," snapped King.

King fired two shots from his gun. These later proved to be blanks, but Constable Callan did not know it at the time.

"Drop that gun or I'll let you have it," shouted Constable Callan. He fired a shot over King's head. The bullet embedded itself in the wall.

At this time King was only four feet from the officer and still threatening to shoot.

Displaying remarkable coolness, which was the subject of deserving praise from his fellow officers this morning, Constable Callan advanced steadily toward King with drawn gun.

King moved back against the hall wall, adjoining the bathroom door, about six feet away. As he reached this wall King fired three more shots.

Again exercising unusual discretion, Constable Callan fired two shots at King's legs.

King immediately ducked into the bathroom and slammed the door.

The officer rushed the door and by the use of sheer force thrust it open. He found King crouched in one corner with drawn gun, and the window sill cleared of glasses and other articles. King was prepared for a getaway.

"Hand me that gun or I'll shoot," ordered Callan.

"All right, all right, don't shoot you've hit me once already," replied King. He handed over his weapon.

In City Police Court this morning King pleaded slightly from the wound. The bullet entered the fleshy part of the right thigh.

When King told the constable he had been shot the officer helped him downstairs and rendered temporary first aid.

King was then taken to police headquarters where Dr. E. C. Hart was called and gave the injury proper attention.

APPEAL LEAVES WAY OPEN FOR G.T.R. ARGUMENT

But Holders of Former Stock Allowed Only to Sue Old G.T.R. and the C.N.R., Not Government of Canada, Privy Council Rules

By THOMAS T. CHAMPTION
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, May 14.—The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council here today allowed the appeal of George Lovibond, acting on behalf of a number of holders of stock in the old Grand Trunk Railway.

In the litigation concerning the terms on which the G.T.R. was taken over by the Canadian National Railways fifteen years ago.

Lovibond originally sought through the Ontario courts a declaration that he and other holders of first, second and third preference shares of the Grand Trunk Railway had been illegally deprived of their holdings.

Their Lordships of the Privy Council found that—if the stock still exists and the claim of the plaintiff (Lovibond) succeeds—the only person who would be deprived of the stock would be the Crown.

JAPAN GIVES ARMS WARNING

Must Strengthen Fortifications If No New Naval Treaty Concluded, Says Minister

Canadian Press from Tokyo
Tokyo, May 14.—A warning Japan will consider it necessary to strengthen its entire fortifications system in the Pacific if a new naval treaty is not concluded to succeed the Washington agreement was delivered by War Minister General Juchir Teruchi today.

The Washington treaty will expire December 31 next.

Replying to a question in the Chamber, the War Minister said if no new agreement was concluded Japan would be forced to resume work on the fortifications—suspended by the Washington agreement—"and build up new defences to guard against a new situation in the Pacific."

He said the army would co-operate closely with the navy should such moves be decided on.

ADVERTISING ON AIR IS OPPOSED

Commons Committee Is Told All-Canadian Congress of Labor Favors Elimination of Private Broadcasting Stations

Canadian Press
Ottawa, May 14.—Arguments for and against the Canadian Radio Commission were heard by the Commons committee on radio today, coupled with further recommendations for opening the way to more numerous and less expensive commercial programmes.

W. T. Burford, speaking for the

All-Canadian Congress of Labor, urged the Radio Commission should be given complete ownership and control of all broadcasting facilities and eliminate advertising on the air.

Mr. Burford suggested no further licenses be issued private broadcasting stations and no renewals be granted when those now in existence expire.

Congratulating the commission on the "excellent but abbreviated" news services now broadcast, Mr. Burford urged this be enlarged.

The All-Canadian Congress was opposed to advertising on the air. "We do not believe a public utility should be dependent on advertising for its existence," he said. Broadcasting stations were on record as declaring gloves. His shoes were tied together around his neck. He was attired in a blue suit with a white sweater. The gun, a .38 calibre Iver Johnson, was discovered this morning to have been one owned by Mr. Justice McQuarrie of the B.C. Court of Appeal, whose home in New Westminster was robbed on February 21, last. Inquiries into this theft are being continued.

MAD LIVE SHELLS

When searched King had both live and blank shells for the gun. A quantity of jewelry was found on him which was identified by Andrew Sheret, 1080 St. Charles Street (almost opposite the Todd home). It was stolen last night by a thief who climbed the back porch, entered the bathroom window and prowled in upstairs rooms while the family listened to the radio in the living-room. This discovery will probably lead to a further charge against King.

The home of J. Root, 1509 Rockland Avenue, was also reported entered last night but nothing was reported missing.

In addition to receiving the plaudits of his fellow officers this morning Constable Callan was personally complimented by Chief Heatley who spoke highly of the remarkable coolness which Callan had demonstrated in only shooting to injure King, when he was confronted by an armed prowler at such close quarters.

The chief also took the opportunity to mention the value of revolver instruction to members of the department in connection with their duties. Had it not been for his accuracy Constable Callan might have fatally injured King when only intending to wound him.

PROUD OF WORK

"In my opinion this is one of the finest pieces of work one of our men has done in years," the Chief said, "and I am certainly proud to have Constable Callan as a member of this force."

Constable Callan is now in his eighth year as a police officer and latterly he has become one of the best shots of the department, competing on teams which have taken part in several competitive shoots.

LAST RITES FOR R. J. CROMIE

Federal and B.C. Governments Represented at Funeral in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 14.—Government and civic officials and citizens of Vancouver gathered at Christ Church Cathedral today to pay their last respects at the funeral of Robert J. Cromie.

Archbishop A. U. de Fencier, assisted by Very Rev. Dean Remy Arncliffe, rector, conducted the English Church burial service. The pallbearers were Knox Walkem, Victor MacLean, W. C. Woodward, G. L. Fraser, Fred J. Bossons and P. J. Selter, business associates and intimate friends of the head of The Vancouver Sun, who died in Victoria Monday.

Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, and Hon. Gordon McO. Sloan, Attorney-General, represented the British Columbia Government, while Brig-Gen. Victor W. Odlum represented the Dominion Government at the request of Prime Minister King. Honorary pallbearers, men who had worked many years with the late publisher, were: G. H. Ballens, H. F. Gates, G. A. Cran, S. J. Humphrey, F. Anderson and Harold Weir.

Employees of The Vancouver Sun and representatives of other Vancouver newspapers were grouped in one section of the cathedral. W. W. Southern and Gordon T. Southern represented the Southern family. F. J. Turner of Winnipeg, superintendent in the west of the Canadian Press, represented that organization and the British Columbia and Yukon Press Association was represented by G. W. A. Smith of Cloverdale, B.C., vice-president.

After the service in Christ Church Cathedral the funeral cortege passed through city streets to Mountain View Cemetery, where the body was cremated.

Appeal Leaves Way Open For G.T.R. Argument

ARGUMENT ON DAMAGES

With respect to Lovibond's claim for damages against the defendant companies, the G.T.R. and others, alleging breach of duty in removing plaintiff's name from the registers, their Lordships saw no ground on which this claim could be prevented from proceeding.

The Privy Council's decision was the latest step in a protracted legal battle which began shortly after a Grand Trunk arbitration board, appointed by the Canadian government, decided that common and preference shares of the company having a certificate value of about $175,000,000 were worthless.

FURTHER LITIGATION

R. C. Rankin, who promoted the appeal on behalf of the stockholders, expressed the opinion today's decision leaves the way open for further litigation.

He said he was glad the Canadian Parliament on April 22 had agreed to a motion for papers on the subject to be laid before the House of Commons. He said further he thought it was imperative the House should read them immediately.

The Privy Council in March, 1935, granted leave to appeal, and it reversed decision last March in the case.

What the next move in the legal battle would be was not known immediately, but it was presumed the case would be taken eventually to the Exchequer Court of Canada by the appellants.

When the case was before the Ontario courts, they ruled that only the Dominion Exchequer Court could rule on the original issue—recovery of the money.

Their Lordships find the Canadian National Railways have no beneficial interest in the stock, which was only received for the purpose of terminating its existence. The only persons who—if the stock still exists and the claim of the plaintiff succeeds—would be deprived of the stock would be the crown.

CLAIM FOR DAMAGES

Mr. Justice Kerwin of the Ontario High Court, however, went much further, the finding that the action brought by the plaintiff originally sought also relief by way of damages against the defendant companies, alleging breach of duty in removing the plaintiff's name from the registers.

Their Lordships see no ground on which this claim for damages, for what it may be worth, can be prevented from proceeding, notwithstanding that the title of the plaintiff to any relief may ultimately turn out to depend on the invalidity of acts of Parliament and orders-in-council.

RIGHT OF APPEAL

Concerning the question whether the appellant is entitled as a matter of right to appeal to His Majesty in Council from the order of the Ontario Court of Appeal in June, 1935, their Lordships express the opinion the contentions of the appellant are correct.

The order of the Ontario Appeal Court should accordingly be discharged, says the finding.

Their Lordships are of the opinion that the appellant is entitled to a new trial, and that the appellant is entitled to a new trial, and that the appellant is entitled to a new trial.

He is not believed to have been in Victoria long, having come west from Winnipeg within the last year.

ion," the finding continues, "that the first appeal should be allowed and that Mr. Justice Kerwin's order should be varied by striking out paragraphs two, three, four and five, and by substituting for those an order staying the action as against the Attorney-General of Canada wholly and as against the other defendants so far as it seeks to have the stock register of the Grand Trunk Railway rectified, or to have the stock registered in the name of the plaintiff, and in so far as it claims the relief sought in subparagraphs to H and sub-paragraph K of paragraph 32 of the statement of claim."

"The second appeal should also be allowed," the finding says.

Mostly held in England, the junior stocks of the Grand Trunk railways have been the subject of parliamentary, financial and legal controversy ever since the railway, operating in Ontario, Quebec and neighboring states of the union, became part of the Canadian National Railways, government owned, in 1920 and 1921.

Agreement for absorption of the Grand Trunk by the Canadian Government system was signed in 1920, followed by a gradual taking over and co-ordination of the Grand Trunk system by the National Railways.

The government appointed a Grand Trunk arbitration board "to decide the amount, if any, to be paid for the common and preference shares of the company" having a certificate value of about $175,000,000. The majority report declared the shares were worth nothing.

ACTION EXTENDED OVER YEARS

Throughout the years the holders of Grand Trunk stocks in England maintained their agitation for recompense for their holdings. In 1926, when a settlement was made with stockholders of the Grand Trunk Pacific, one of the Canadian National's western lines, there were rumors in London some compensation was being considered for holders of the Grand Trunk junior stock.

Finally George Pardew Lovibond of Manor Park, Essex, England, brought action in the Ontario courts on behalf of himself and other holders of Grand Trunk first, second and third preference and common shares, for a declaration they had been illegally deprived of their stock holdings when the Government of Canada acquired the properties of the railway. He attacked the validity of the statutes by which the Grand Trunk became part of the Canadian National Railways system. The plaintiff's personal interest was in approximately $55,000 of stocks.

PETITION OF RIGHT

Mr. Justice Patrice Kerwin heard argument on the fundamental question of law raised by Lovibond's action and decided the plaintiff could proceed only by petition of right. The Exchequer Court of Canada alone had original jurisdiction to deal with the issue raised by the case, the judgment said in dismissing the action with costs. On April 28, 1934, the Court of Appeal of Ontario confirmed Mr. Justice Kerwin's finding.

Evan Gray of Toronto as counsel for Lovibond then appealed to Mr. Justice W. E. Middleton who upheld a contention Lovibond had the right to appeal to the Privy Council. The Ontario Court of Appeal, however, ruled the case should be carried to that tribunal only with the latter's special leave.

This leave was granted March 22, 1935. The appeal itself was heard during the early months of this year and decision was reserved March 24, last.

TEST ON DAMAGES

Ottawa, May 14.—Certain holders of common and preferred shares of the Grand Trunk Railway Company have been refused their appeal to be permitted to proceed against the Attorney-General of Canada in the Ontario courts. They then sought permission to proceed in their claim for damages against the Grand Trunk and Canadian National Railways.

The Attorney-General of Canada and the railway companies in the Ontario courts, claiming the Canadian parliament had been ultra vires in transferring the common and preferred shares of the companies from the private holders to the Minister of Finance. He asked the shares be returned to the private owners, and damages if the shares were not returned.

When the case came before the Ontario court, the Attorney-General of Canada entered a preliminary objection that the case against the Attorney-General and the railway companies could not be proceeded with without a file from the Dominion. Appeal against this was taken to the Privy Council.

Today's judgment was that the case could not proceed against the Attorney-General and costs were awarded the Dominion on this phase. Lovibond was allowed, however, to proceed against the railway companies for damages.

FOUR CLAIMS

Four claims on which Mr. Lovibond will be permitted to proceed in the Ontario courts as alternatives to his rejected proposals are:

"In the alternative, damages in the amount of $9,733.33, for the refusal or failure of the defendants Grand Trunk and Canadian National to obtain and register such stock, or cause the same to be obtained and registered in the name of the plaintiff; and

"Damages in the amount of $4,579.95 for the unlawful acts of the defendants Grand Trunk and Canadian National in registering the plaintiff's shares and in depriving the plaintiff of the rights and privileges of ownership of such stocks without lawful authority; and

"In the alternative, damages in the amount of $28,713.33 for the refusal or failure of the defendants Grand Trunk and Canadian National to register such stock or cause the same to be registered in the name of the plaintiff; and

"Damages in the amount of $12,920.95 for the unlawful acts of the defendants Grand Trunk and Canadian National in registering the plaintiff's shares and in depriving the plaintiff of the rights and privileges of ownership of such stocks without lawful authority."

THOMAS DENIES BUDGET TIP

He was testifying before the judicial tribunal formed to investigate allegations that a "tip-off" to the effect the income and tea taxes would be boosted was given certain persons before the budget was brought down in the House of Commons, April 21.

At the request of Mr. Justice Porter, presiding, Mr. Thomas agreed to have his banking account investment book sent to the tribunal for inspection.

"I never disclosed a word regarding the budget to anybody," said the Colonial Secretary.

Testimony at previous sessions had disclosed Alfred Bates, advertising agency head and long-time friend of Mr. Thomas, had taken out insurance against budget tax increases through several persons, including Leslie Thomas, stock-broker son of the Colonial Secretary.

Mr. Bates was on the stand yesterday and denied the elder Thomas had disclosed any budget secrets to him.

Correspondence was tabled between Bates and "Jimmy" Thomas, in which the former offered the cabinet minister $20,000 for Thomas's autobiography to be completed after his retirement from the cabinet. It offered the minister a further share of all profits over $25,000.

Mr. Thomas's letter in reply said he would accept if Mr. Bates would get for him a house which Mr. Thomas liked. Mr. Bates did so for $15,000, informed Mr. Thomas, and sought acknowledgement of the sum on account of the autobiography.

On the stand today the Colonial Secretary said he had accepted Mr. Bates's offer regarding the autobiography. The only thing he resented in the letter which had been published was the reference to the house he purchased for his wife, he told the court.

TALKED WITH PREMIER

When rumors began to circulate concerning the supposed budget "leak" Mr. Thomas testified he went straight to Prime Minister Baldwin and told him "word for word what I am now telling the court."

"I am going to insist on an investigation into my son's transactions," he added.

Mr. Thomas said he felt inclined to resign from the cabinet, but he yielded to the persuasion of friends not to do so, because all manner of construction would be placed on such an action, he asserted.

The Colonial Secretary puffed unconcernedly on his pipe as he forced his way through a large crowd to reach the law courts where the inquiry is proceeding.

He testified for forty minutes, telling the court also that he had questioned his son, Leslie, concerning budget insurance and asked him to "tell me everything." Leslie then asserted he had acted only "for the good of a client" when he placed business with the Colonial Minister.

A stock broker, Reginald H. Marriott, testified that a friend told him on April 20, the day before the budget was brought down, that the income tax would be increased.

Marriott said his friend had received his information from a lawyer who, in turn, had got the information "from a great friend of his."

"Did he mention who?" asked one of the counsel.

"Not by name," Marriott replied.

"There was nothing to identify him."

"He said he was a great friend of somebody else."

"Who else?"

"J. H. Thomas."

this city, who was one of the field marshal's staff officers during the Great War.

"I had a close association with him from 1917 to 1926," said Colonel Lightbody. "The entire personnel of his force grew to admire his sincerity of purpose, his outstanding ability and his humanness. The interests of the empire at all times were foremost with Allenby and after the war he visited every section of the empire which sent troops to serve under him."

"In 1926 when he visited Canada, General Noel Money and myself met him here and when he went to Vancouver he was the guest of the late Dean R. W. Brock. Last September I received a letter from Allenby in which he expressed his sorrow at the tragic death of Brock."

"Allenby was outstanding not only in war but in peace."

GREAT QUALITIES

General Noel Money of Quilicum Beach, who served under Field Marshal Allenby in Palestine, was deeply moved by the death of his old leader.

"In my mind," General Money said, "Allenby was the greatest leader in the war. He combined offensive in Palestine of airplanes, cavalry, artillery and infantry was a most wonderfully organized effort which resulted in the complete overthrow of the Turkish army."

"There was a close personal bond between us. Allenby combined the qualities of soldier, statesman, sportsman, gentleman and true patriot, which every Britisher admires."

AUSTRIA GIVES ITALY SUPPORT

A Heimwehr official revealed Prince von Starhemberg had arranged for an airplane to fly to Rome late today for a discussion of his ouster from the government.

Heimwehr officials issued reassuring statements to provincial Heimwehrmen who telephoned, asking whether they should attempt to occupy gendarmerie posts and public buildings. The officers replied no action should be taken.

Von Starhemberg's leadership was relieved yesterday evening. Pictures of the prince, a close sympathizer with Premier Mussolini of Italy, disappeared overnight from billboards and walls.

The black, white and red flag of Germany was raised momentarily over the Heimwehr headquarters by an unknown person. Police removed it immediately.

COOL HEADS DESIRED

Heimwehr sub-commanders ordered their units to "keep heads cool" and declared only orders issued by Prince von Starhemberg himself were to be obeyed by the private army.

Chancellor Schuschnigg submitted the resignation of his cabinet to President Wilhelm Miklas yesterday evening. The President immediately asked the Chancellor to form a new ministry. Dr. Schuschnigg increased his own strength, becoming Chancellor, Defence Minister and Chief of Foreign Affairs. He dropped Von Starhemberg, naming Eduard Baer-Barrenfels Vice-Chancellor.

The black, white and red flag of Germany was raised momentarily over the Heimwehr headquarters by an unknown person. Police removed it immediately.

COOL HEADS DESIRED

Heimwehr sub-commanders ordered their units to "keep heads cool" and declared only orders issued by Prince von Starhemberg himself were to be obeyed by the private army.

Chancellor Schuschnigg submitted the resignation of his cabinet to President Wilhelm Miklas yesterday evening. The President immediately asked the Chancellor to form a new ministry. Dr. Schuschnigg increased his own strength, becoming Chancellor, Defence Minister and Chief of Foreign Affairs. He dropped Von Starhemberg, naming Eduard Baer-Barrenfels Vice-Chancellor.

known ships in the Seattle-Alaska trade. She is a small vessel and her passengers were said to be mostly workers for the canneries which are now opening up in the north.

WEATHER GOOD

The Salvage King is expected to reach the North Sea's side early Saturday morning. Weather on the Inside Passage to Alaska is now at its best and the repair and salvage job will not prove a difficult one.

No word was received here as to how the vessel happened to run aground on Point Marsh. Dixon Entrance is the open body of water separating British Columbia from Alaska waters. It is on the main Inside Passage and vessels go through that body on their way out from Prince Rupert.

First reports after word of the ship's grounding said the North Sea had been freed and was proceeding on her own power to Ketchikan. It is evident the vessel then started leaking badly and her captain deemed it wisest to order his passengers to the lifeboats and try to beach the ship in order to save her from sinking.

SALT FOUND IN NORTH ALBERTA

Canadian Press

Edmonton, May 14.—Drillers in the McMurray district have struck a core of high grade salt in "the most important strike in the province since Royalty Oil No. 4 was brought in at Turner Valley." Hon. C. G. Ross, Minister of Lands and Mines, announced today.

During drilling the salt was found at 944 feet and the drill then passed through a solid salt seam for 199 feet. Total depth of operations so far is 999 feet.

CANADA AND THE LEAGUE

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS YESTERDAY Premier King refused to permit a debate on the League of Nations and Canada's place in it at this time. He indicated, however, that the question would be discussed later in the session. The Prime Minister must have good reason for delaying this discussion, including information which, at this critical stage in the European situation, he is not able to give Parliament and the people of Canada. Delay, for the moment, may be necessary, but it is of paramount importance that at this session Parliament should review Canada's entire relations with the League, her commitments under the League covenant, and her position in the event of war in Europe.

Canada has loyally fulfilled her obligations under the League covenant. She has even fulfilled the obligation which has carried out the covenant to the letter. In the League Canada placed high hopes, saw in it some tangible accomplishment and reward for her large sacrifice of men and treasure in the Great War. In no nation has there been more sincere support of the ideal of collective security for which the League is supposed to stand.

These hopes have been profoundly shaken in the last few years, first by Japan's invasion of Manchuria, then by the Hoare-Laval fiasco and now by the abandonment of Ethiopia, a League member, to Italy, another League member still in good standing.

The question raised by these events was put in few words by Mr. Woodsworth in the House yesterday. "Is Canada," he said, "to go on as a member of a League which offers no security to this country?" That is the issue which Parliament and the Canadian people must face soon.

In its present state the League offers no security to anyone. It has been tested in the case of two invaded countries and has failed utterly. No member of it can look for safety there and every member, except Canada, has recognized the fact by arming itself to the teeth.

The League thus far has failed and must be reorganized or abandoned. The British Government, which has compromised its relations with the League in such a fashion that its own people have been its strongest critics, is doing its utmost now to save the League. This may be possible, but recent events seem to make it unlikely. Europe is enmeshed in such a network of alliances, such a web of conspiracy, such economic stresses and strains, that no nation can count on its pledges and covenants.

While this is the position of the League and Europe, the position of Canada also is far from satisfactory. Canada has supported the League and criticized the League for its failure. This failure resulted finally from the refusal of the League to expand sanctions against Italy. Canada thus has scarcely the right to criticize the League for failure if she is not prepared to apply sanctions whenever the necessity arises in Europe, Africa, Asia or any other continent where a League nation is invaded.

Canada is obligated by the covenant to fight, if the League votes for military sanctions. At this stage in the world's history, when the principle of collective security is at stake, Canada owes it to herself, the British Empire and the League, to say whether she is ready to fulfil these obligations or not. We can not have it both ways. We can not refuse to fight and then condemn the League because it refuses to fight. We must be prepared to involve ourselves in the wars of Europe or we must make it plain that we propose to stay out of them. No other honorable course is open to us.

These are grave decisions to make; the most important that the Canadian Parliament and the Canadian people have ever faced. They can not be made in a moment; but events move fast in Europe and a decision may be forced upon us suddenly, when we are least ready to make it. Now, when Parliament is in session, all these questions should be discussed fully, freely and without passion. Canada should declare how far she is prepared to support the League, how far she is prepared to involve herself in foreign wars, and how far her foreign policy will be controlled from abroad. If there is any question about Parliament's decision on these issues, the government should not hesitate to take them to the Canadian people for confirmation.

A FINE PIECE OF WORK

WE KNOW FROM THE WORKS OF Gilbert and Sullivan that a policeman's lot is not a happy one. For a few moments last night Constable Louis Callan of the City Police Department must have realized the truth of it and also experienced emotions better imagined than described as a desperado fired five shots at him point-blank at a distance of only a few feet. Happily, however, the shells were blank. But the officer of the law was not to know whether either the second or third might have contained the death-dealing charge, for it is by no means a new dodge to use one or two blanks in the hope that the aim and report may produce capitulation of the one apparently attacked. But Callan stood his ground with most commendable courage and a fine conception of devotion to duty. He used two shells himself, one obviously to demonstrate that he, too, meant business, firing the first over his quarry's head and the next into his leg. The battle thus ended. It was a fine piece of work and Constable Callan is entitled to unstinted praise and Chief of Police Heatley no doubt is congratulating himself on having men of Callan's type under his command.

ANOTHER RECORD AND AN INSULT

WHEN DR. ECKENER AND CAPTAIN Lehmann alighted from the Hindenburg at Frankfurt-on-the-Main, Germany, today, after covering the distance between Lakehurst, N.J.—4,168.75 miles—in just a trifle more than forty-nine hours, municipal officials arranged a city hall reception in their honor, while both were presented with silver cups from State Governor Jacob Sprenger. With this part of the ceremony over, however, the veteran "Admiral of the Air" was relegated to the background and the Nazi governor, in the presence of other state functionaries, turned to Lehmann and welcomed him as commander of the Hindenburg, the Captain replying to all the greetings in the name of the great airship's crew.

It will be recalled that when the Hindenburg reached Lakehurst a few days ago after a record-breaking flight no German newspaper was allowed to mention Dr. Eckener's name in connection with this fine achievement; but it was expected that on a successful return—the prospect of another record, of course, was in view, and it now has been set—all would be well and Eckener forgiven for his refusal to allow the Zeppelin Company's craft to be used for political propaganda purposes during the recent elections for a new Reichstag. He made it plain at the time to Reichsfuehrer Hitler and the German people as a whole that he was "a technician and not a politician." Today's renewed display of spite on the part of the government is a definite indication that Eckener's remark is still disturbing the official mind.

It will be interesting to watch developments as construction and navigation of lighter-than-air craft. The great Einstein was banished by the Nazi government merely because circumstances over which he had no control decreed that he should be born a Jew—to become one of the most notable figures the modern scientific realm has ever known. But Eckener is not a Jew. In his own sphere, of course, he is as eminent as Einstein is in his. Thus we shall now see whether Hitler and Company will make it as uncomfortable for the able Aryan president of the Zeppelin Company as they did for the Jew professor of the intricate sciences.

THE DOMINION HOUSING ACT

THE NEW DOMINION HOUSING ACT, whereby the government grants financial assistance to the building of new houses, promises to be a major factor in the building industry of Canada. The main feature of the measure is that it materially reduces the cost of financing building construction.

Under the provisions of the act, the owner or purchaser of the home puts up 20 per cent of the total cost, that is, land, lawyers, and architects' fees, construction and permanent equipment. The government puts up 20 per cent and the lending companies advance up to 60 per cent. Under the old regulations, lending companies could not advance more than 50 per cent of the total value of the property. Financing costs have been reduced materially and will average about 5 per cent. Lending companies will receive about 5 2/3 per cent on their loan, since the government's advance carries a rate of only 3 per cent.

The act sets no limit to the value of the house to be erected under the scheme. However, the construction of a house must first be approved by the government and by the mortgage companies. Although the lending companies have not assumed any responsibility for architectural supervision, they have agreed, in order to protect their own interests and those of the government, to make periodical inspections of the construction of the houses. This in turn provides a further safeguard against faulty construction and poor workmanship.

The mortgages run for a period of ten years but contain a provision for renewal. The mortgages also carry amortization provisions, calculated to repay the entire debt within a period of twenty years. Monthly payments can be arranged. The mortgage companies as well as the government will finance the construction of houses only in places where a ready market for the houses exists. This, of course, would exclude rural communities or speculative construction of houses. Although the act was originally opposed by quite a number of people, including some of the mortgage companies, it is gaining more and more favor in the eyes of the public. It is expected that it will result in a material increase in building construction and thereby contribute materially to the recovery of business conditions.

The Dominion Government has given careful study to this problem. It has found that one of the greatest difficulties in reviving the building industry was the high cost of financing and the hesitation on the part of mortgage companies to make mortgage loans. By granting loans of 20 per cent of the total cost at a low rate of interest, the government has assumed part of the risk of the financing. It makes it possible for individuals or builders with a small amount of capital to start the construction of houses.

The fact that mortgage companies are swamped with money and that there is a shortage of houses in certain parts of the country makes it probable that the Housing Act will be successful. Mortgage companies report that they are receiving a large number of applications for loans and as soon as these have been approved by the government and lending companies, building will start.

MOOSE RIVER AND MARITIME COAL
Saint John Telegraph-Journal

Not even the miners of Nova Scotia would expect special consideration on the sole ground that some of their number took an heroic part in the Moose River drama. But no doubt their hope is that the event will draw attention to the worthiness of their constant appeal and result in steadier and more remunerative employment for all those engaged in coal mining.

FISHERMEN AND FOREST FIRES
The Detroit News

During the period from January 1 to May 1, the Conservation Commission reports, we have had thirty-five forest fires. Twenty of these thirty-five fires occurred on a single day, and that day the first one of the trout fishing season. In the face of this information it is unnecessary to seek for a cause among locomotive sparks, lightning flashes, spontaneous combustion, or other factors frequently held to blame. They stand cleared of complicity. There is no mystery.

WARNING!

The Times urges its correspondents to restrict their contributions to 600 words. Henceforth it positively will not print communications which exceed that length.

Letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. Letters containing offensive personal reflections will not be printed.

These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of The Times.

CAUTION!

The Times will not assume responsibility for the return to the writers of articles sent for publication in the Correspondence Column or anywhere else in this newspaper, whether they are published or not, unless they have been specially solicited.

MANY MOTHER COUNTRIES

To the Editor—I read this week in The Times a letter signed "British-Canadian" and I am wondering with which arm he or she waved his or her imperialistic arm.

I would like to know, incidentally, how he or she considers Great Britain the Mother Country of Canada. True, there are many thousands of people in this country who first saw the light of day in the British Isles. But think of the great French-Canadian population in this Dominion and those thousands who call some European country, besides England, their homeland. And then there are those millions of Canadian-born who owe no allegiance to any country except Canada.

"British-Canadian" might do well to study ethnological statistics as they apply to Canada before coming to any definite conclusions.

THE CRISIS IN EUROPE

To the Editor—Many people in these days are speaking about the crisis in Europe and having different views about who is most to blame.

Has France been keeping her promise since the war ended? I don't think so, it does not look like that to me. Instead of that she has been bucking against England nearly all the time since the war ended, and during the past France has been the same as Spain, a warlike nation all the way through.

Viscount Allenby, Britain's Palestine Soldier Hero, Dies

Viscount Allenby's character was strikingly illustrated when he entered Jerusalem with his successful invading forces. In respect to the associations which the Holy City has for Christian and other faiths, Field Marshal Allenby entered the city on foot, instead of riding.

So long as there are Christians, the memory of Edmund Allenby will be held in a high and bright place by historians, for it was that British cavalry officer who restored to Christian dominion the land made sacred by the birthplace of Christ, the scene of His work upon earth, and of His crucifixion. The Moslem crescent had dominated the Holy Land for almost seven centuries when the Turkish military forces, driven backward and harassed by the German officers by the furious onslaught of Allenby's legions, surrendered Jerusalem on December 9, 1917.

BRILLIANT AS COMMANDER

The restoration of the Holy Land to Christianity was the culmination of the most brilliant of Allenby's many military drives of dazzling swiftness. He had scored many successes on the Western Front in France and Flanders as chief of the British Fifth Army and then the Third Army before he was sent to Egypt to carry through a programme of advance in which others had failed. Before Allenby got into Egypt the African campaigning was given scant attention. War commentators had passed it over as a "side show."

Allenby set to work building railroads and preparing for a big push. When the time came to shove onward against the Turkish legions he would lead out "dust columns" by day, marching in one direction, and then when darkness fell, hurl his forces on the unready Turks with an advance in the opposite direction. He pushed them out of Egypt in the autumn and before Christmas had cornered them in Palestine, between the Jordan and Mediterranean, where they surrendered to him. Once more a Christian banner fluttered above the holy places, the first time since the brief Christian occupation by the medieval Crusaders. Save for that short season, Palestine had been under Moslem domination since 1244, a part of Turkish territory since 1817.

STARTED SOLDIERING EARLY

Allenby's war experience began soon after his graduation from the Royal Military College at Sandhurst. He entered the Inniskilling Dragoons and served with them in the Bechuanaland Expedition of 1894-95. Three years later he fought in Zululand. In the South African War he was adjutant of dragoons. By 1910 he had become inspector of cavalry and when the World War broke, he went to France in command of the British mounted forces.

Returning from Jerusalem after the war, Allenby was given the baton of a field marshal and elevated to the peerage as a Viscount. Then his administrative ability and military successes were rewarded with the appointment of High Commissioner for Egypt.

For his services in the Great War Field Marshal Allenby was decorated by the governments of nearly all the Allies, the decorations including the Distinguished Service Medal of the United States Government.

He was born April 23, 1861.

SEES MATERIAL FOR BOOK HERE

Louise Gerard, English Novelist, Has Traveled All Over World

"I am not looking for material, but I think there is a great deal of it here," said Miss Louise Gerard, English novelist, in an interview at the Empress Hotel this morning. She added that the material was suitable for modern as well as historical stories.

Miss Gerard is a writer of novels and serials of the semi-thriller type. Her work has been published in serial and book form in the United States and Canada, and in translations in Hungary, Holland, Norway, Sweden and France. A Paris daily paper recently carried a French version of one of her serials, which is a highly unusual event.

She describes her work as the kind "you pick up and read through and curse the author because you can't leave it."

"People seem to like it, and that's the main thing," she added.

IS WORLD TRAVELER

Miss Gerard spends most of her time traveling in search of material. When asked what countries she knew, she began to count up the ones she had not visited. The only ones she could not think of were Australia, Burma, Finland, South Africa and Tibet. She plans to go to Australia next year, and had intended to visit South Africa this year, but came to Canada instead.

Her opinions of the various countries she has seen are concise and amusing.

She was in Russia three years ago. When asked her impressions of the Soviet regime, she said: "There were no impressions. They were all depressions. I think Russia is the biggest fraud I have ever seen. I am a limited Socialist myself, but I found the government officials were the only people who had any sort of a time. Their idea is that to repair the roof you must tear down the whole house."

She hopes to return to Russia next year "if they let me in after what I wrote about them."

FINDS GERMAN HAPPY

Miss Gerard was in Germany last year.

"I think the Germans are the happiest people I have seen anywhere," she said. "Hitler has given Germany what it wanted, even if the rest of the world does not like it."

Her opinion of Italy and Mussolini was very similar.

Of the United States, she said: "It does not appeal to me very much."

Miss Gerard does almost all her writing in England. When she gets back from her travels she retires to a quiet country hotel at Haslemere.

She publishes up her novels at her London flat.

BORN TO BE EXPLORER

"I was born to be an explorer," said Miss Gerard. "Writing is a by-product."

"A long time ago I saved up my money and went to West Africa. I saw a lot of things that very few women have seen. When I got home I wrote some articles. Very much to my surprise they were accepted. A year later I tried a short story, and again very much to my surprise that was accepted. I started writing novels later."

Of the writing of stories in general, she said: "There is a good deal of artifice and cunning attached to it. The great thing is to know where to leave off."

Miss Gerard plans to stay in Victoria for about a week, and then to sail for England by way of the Panama Canal.

SPRING LAMB SHOW JUNE 10

Saanichton, May 14.—The executive and members of the North and South Saanich Sheep Breeders' Association are completing plans for their first annual spring sheep and lamb show in the agricultural grounds, Saanichton, on June 10.

The association, under the leadership of George Clark, has drawn up an extensive prize list, which includes prizes for the best pen of three lambs sired by rams of the following breeds: Southdowns, Shropshire, Kerry Hill, Suffolk, Oxford, a prize for the best pen of three breeding ewes over one year, for the best pen of three ewe lambs, for the best pen of three market lambs sixty pounds; for the best market lamb eighty pounds, and for the best dressed lamb weighing about forty pounds.

The association plans to have a boys' and girls' judging competition open to boys and girls sixteen years and under, as well as a prize for the best pet lamb shown by a boy or girl. Arrangements have been completed for a shearing contest for both machine and hand shearing with classes for professionals and novices. To complete the programme a sheep dog trial will be held during the day.

T. K. Harrop has donated a purebred Shropshire ram, lamb to the association. C. Ecclestone a purebred Kerry Hill ram lamb, and A. Lock a purebred Oxford ram lamb. Fat lambs have been donated by the following members: George Clark, James Turner, John Haldon and Mr. Hawthorne. These lambs will be auctioned at the show and the proceeds going to defray the expenses.

Royal Oak

In honor of the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swithin, a surprise party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Marson, West Saanich Road. On behalf of those present, Miss Sheila Watling presented Mr. and Mrs. Swithin with a bouquet of flowers. During the evening solos were sung by Mrs. G. Watling, H. Swithin and E. Dawe. The guests present included Mr. and Mrs. Swithin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dawe, Mr. and Mrs. G. Watling, Mr. and Mrs. F. Marson, Mrs. F. Bullock, Mrs. N. Martin, R. Coulson, Misses Lillian Epton, Ruby Swithin, Edith Hodgson, Mona and Sheila Watling, Lorraine Marson, Trevor Watling and Jack Marson.

A guest tea was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. P. Stelek, Old West Road, on Tuesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Wilkinson Road Women's Auxiliary. The rooms were prettily decorated with pink and yellow tulips with greenery. Readings were given by Mrs. W. J. Jewell, Mrs. W. Allan and Mrs. Stelek. Tea was served by Mrs. Stelek, assisted by Mrs. Vincent Rush and Miss Anne Allan. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoy, Mr. and Mrs. Neil McGillivray, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pringle, Mr. and Mrs. Straith, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. McCall, Mesdames A. E. Campion, H. Thompson, E. Boorman, S. Jones, S. Clarke, D. Lehman, A. Forrest, E. Braithwaite, H. Ross, L. Scott, W. J. MAY REVISE BOARD LAWS

Consideration of Changes in By-laws Referred to Committee

Consideration of the revision of the city school board's by-laws will be given by a committee of three, Trustees Walter Staneland, Percy George and Kenneth Ferguson, in the near future.

The committee was struck at a meeting which brought forth a protest from the board chairman, Trustee W. C. Moresby, over "perpetual quibbling."

"It sometimes takes the patience of even those who have had the experience I have had on this board," the chairman complained, after moves to revise committees had been put, withdrawn or fallen from lack of support.

Proceeding business had brought forth scintillating remarks from certain members of the board before Trustee Staneland brought in a motion aiming to change the existing building and grounds committee for one which would include all members of the board. By that means, he said, he hoped to see the responsibility for the hiring and firing of employees shared among all trustees. He later withdrew his motion after an amendment by Trustee Ferguson, suggesting a reshuffle of the committees, had been lost.

WOULD SHARE RESPONSIBILITY

Following the reading of Trustee Staneland's motion, Trustee Moresby explained the different methods by which the existing status could be altered and Trustee Staneland acted on his suggestion to suspend the building and grounds committee and install the entire board in its place. His object, he said, was to give the board as a whole jurisdiction over all employees.

Trustee Ferguson opposed the motion. He said large committees were unwieldy, that half the board would serve on two committees under the suggestion, while the other half served on one only and that the existing building and grounds committee was entirely satisfactory to him. He thought the motion implied lack of confidence in the committee.

He submitted an amendment that standing committees be dissolved and suggested the chairman appoint Trustees George, C. R. Bishop and himself to a new finance committee, and Trustees Staneland, Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin and John Wallace to the building and grounds committee. Trustee Staneland said his motion implied no censure of the building and grounds group. He had aimed to help that body by spreading the responsibility.

WOULD AVOID CHARGES

"Never should it be said again that one or two members of the board should be responsible for the dismissal of an employee as it has been said recently," he stated. He was quite prepared to have an executive committee within the building and grounds group if it were considered too unwieldy.

Trustee Bishop seconded Trustee Ferguson's amendment, saying he thought the Staneland move an implied want of confidence. He further thought the building and grounds group quite competent to handle its work and said they should be allowed to stand for the year.

Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin said she thought the amendment out of order, but it was sustained.

Trustee George was in favor of the principle of having all members on the building and grounds committee, but said the motion would be construed as one indicating lack of confidence if it passed. He spoke of the possible embarrassment which would result if the motion carried. He suggested Trustee Staneland hold his motion until next January.

The amendment was put and lost, with Trustee Bishop and Ferguson voting alone for it.

REGRETS STAND

Trustee Staneland spoke again to his motion.

"I'm very sorry," he said, "some members feel as they do. I thought

I was doing all a great kindness. Now two or three stand the brunt of objection and the rest of us can sit back and say it's nothing to do with us when any dismissals occur."

Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin said there appeared to be some confusion over the duties of committees. She thought there was a great deal of overlapping and that the business of the board was not conducted as efficiently as possible.

She suggested the by-laws be investigated by a special committee with a view to revision.

Trustee Staneland withdrew his motion and seconded that of Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin when it was put. On the vote the board split even, with the chairman declining to cast the deciding ballot. Those in favor of the vote were Trustees MacLaurin, Staneland and George. Those opposed were Trustees Bishop, Ferguson and Wallace.

The motion was revamped and finally carried when it referred to the special committee consideration of revision. Trustee Wallace crossed over to the affirmative to give that side the majority.

Trustee Moresby then struck the committee which did not include the proposer of the scheme, Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin.

The committee was asked to report in its own time.

Purchase of an Elgin Street Sweeper was authorized by the City Council yesterday with Alderman Andrew McGavin voting in the negative.

NEAR SPLIT ON MINUTES

City School Board Starts Meeting With Early Rift Over Records

Victoria's school board yesterday evening opened its meeting with a difference of opinion that was sustained throughout the meeting as various matters were brought up for discussion.

The opening brush occurred when Trustee Mrs. D. L. MacLaurin took exception to the minutes of one of the preceding meetings.

The minutes quoted Trustee Kenneth Ferguson as giving a blanket denial to reported statements he had approached an employee of the staff suggesting he take out insurance, that he had told him that his pay increase would cover the extra costs of the additional protections and that the employee's dismissal had been influenced by action of the trustee.

She had heard his denial of the latter reported charge, but had not heard him deny the former two, she said.

Trustee Ferguson said he had no objection to the minutes. They expressed his statements correctly, he said.

Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin put her request for a correction in the form of a resolution asking for alteration of the minutes. The resolution was ruled out of order by Trustee W. C. Moresby, chairman.

Trustee Ferguson said he very deeply resented the attitude of the board member who, he said, implied doubt over his statements.

Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin voted in the negative on the minutes when they were submitted.

Trustee Ferguson thought it improper and asked the negative vote be withdrawn. He considered it an insult to himself, he said.

Trustee Moresby asked Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin to withdraw her negative vote and when she demurred, insisted on its withdrawal to avert "drastic action" by him.

Trustee Mrs. MacLaurin finally complied.

The City Council yesterday accepted the report of the health and relief committee announcing a new working agreement with local druggists for the supply of drugs to relief cases on a lower basis. Alderman Ed. Williams, speaking to the report, stated a very substantial saving would be made. He expressed his appreciation of the excellent cooperation given by the druggists and medical men in the matter. Alderman J. D. Hunter also spoke highly of the new arrangement.

Mixed Feelings Over Flagpole

City Grateful For Donation of Big Timber, But Regrets
Expenses Entailed

The city today possessed a 165-foot flagpole, for the donation of which it was grateful, but for the expense of erecting which it was extremely sad.

The pole was donated by the Kappas Lumber Company and was brought to Victoria by the C.N.R. without proper authorization from the council.

Costs of taking it from the C.N.R. yards, for paying for its transportation and for shaping it were set at $325.

Alderman F. R. Brown asked if provision had been made in the park estimates for the work and was told such provision had not been made.

He moved that the amount be paid, to avoid extra charges, and added a rider that the sum be taken from another section of the parks budget.

When the motion had carried, he brought in another to the effect that all committees, when recommending

CONSERVATIVES NAME DELEGATES

Two groups of Conservative delegates to the party convention in Vancouver on June 15 were selected at association meetings yesterday evening.

Ward Two, Victoria, Conservatives, chose six delegates as follows: F. E. Coley, Mrs. A. P. Sinclair, Mrs. L. Mackenzie, Capt. F. W. Zeigler, Capt. W. C. Thompson and R. Shepherd; alternates, Mrs. B. Ripley and J. J. Randolph.

The Esquimalt Conservative Association at an executive meeting named five as follows: R. H. Pooley, K.C., M.P.P., E. V. Finland, Capt. W. J. Cox, Capt. Sidney R. Bowden and Mrs. C. H. Smith; alternates, Mrs. T. Hadfield and Robert Dent.

Oak Bay Conservatives have named their delegates and others will be chosen at meetings within the next week or two.

Payment of $5,000 to the Jubilee Hospital, the amount representing all the May account and part of that for April, was approved by the City Council yesterday.

NEW JERSEY HAS ITS FIRST QUADRUPLETS

Falling just short of the record of Callander, Ont., home of the quintuplets, Little Ferry, N.J., suddenly found its population increased by four—the girl and three boys—Frances, Frank, Felix and Ferdinand Kaspar, displayed above by nurses at St. Mary's Hospital, Passaic. Born to Mrs. Emil Kaspar, wife of a $20-a-week Erie railroad yard employee, the tiny quartette, weighing a total of thirteen pounds, two and a half ounces at birth, must remain in incubators for a while. The girl, held by the nurse at left, was born first. Weighing three and a half pounds, she could also boast a head of dark, curly hair. The Kaspars, wed in 1930, have two other children, a boy and girl, "going on" two and four, respectively. The quads were the first born in New Jersey.

TOLMIE URGED AS CANDIDATE

Esquimalt Conservatives
Will Ask Him to Stand For Nomination

Esquimalt Conservative Association wants Hon. S. P. Tolmie, former Premier of British Columbia, to be the representative of Victoria in the House of Commons.

At an executive meeting of the association yesterday evening a committee was named to broach the subject to Dr. Tolmie and urge him to allow his name to go before a nominating convention of the party for the federal by-election here.

At the same time the Esquimalt association indicated a desire for the Conservatives to have their candidate in the field first and on the suggestion of Capt. S. R. Bowden decided to urge the central executive to call the nominating convention before the end of May. The by-election itself may not be for several months.

The committee named to interview Dr. Tolmie was as follows: R. H. Pooley, K.C., M.P.P., Capt. W. J. Cox, Capt. Bowden, E. V. Finland, Mrs. C. H. Smith, Robert Dent, T. Jennings and Mrs. T. Hadfield. They were instructed to see Dr. Tolmie on Friday.

CHANGE HOURS AT CITY HALL

The City Hall will observe early closing from June 15 to September 15 this year, as the result of action taken by the City Council yesterday.

A motion was brought in which aimed to change the hours to 5:30 o'clock in the morning until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon on week days and from 9:30 o'clock until 12:30 o'clock on Saturday, starting May 18, but the date was altered after debate to June.

Aldermen again noted the move was parallel in some respects to the Daylight Saving suggestion which had been turned down by the ratepayers.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

To the Greeks, he was Hermes; to the Italians, Mercury, and to the Egyptians, Thoth—this prancing, jolting, thieving messenger of the gods. Wearing winged headress and sandals, and carrying the caduceus, his staff of office, Hermes not only bore the orders of Zeus, his father, but guided the footsteps of travelers and of thieves.

When only a few months old, it is said, Hermes saw a tortoise on its back, and noticed that the dried stretched skin produced a musical sound when plucked. From this discovery, he invented the lyre. While still a baby, he stole from his cradle and led away the oxen of Admetus. As a result, he became the patron of thieves.

Despite his knavery, however, Hermes was considered a friendly god and protector of strangers. Statues of him were set up at cross-roads to guide the travelers and protect the homeless. His flying figure appears on the 10-cent drachma valuation of Greece's new set issue of stamps.

Saanich Trade Board Urges
Old C.N.R. Right of Way
Be Kept Intact

Brentwood, May 14.—A resolution urging the provincial government to hold intact the C.N.R. right-of-way from Lake Hill to Patricia Bay until it can be used as a public highway, was passed by the Saanich Board of Trade Monday.

The government was also urged to establish a public utilities commission.

Delegates appointed to the convention of the Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island were Reeve W. Crouch, W. O. Wallace and J. E. Sladen. The convention will be held at Qualicum June 11.

Ladysmith, May 14.—The Ladysmith Board of Trade has no resolutions to go before the Associated Boards' convention, it was decided at the regular meeting Tuesday. Plans in hand can be taken care of by local initiative, and the two delegates to the annual convention at Qualicum Beach next month, Dr. D. P. Hanington and Dr. A. T. Verchere, will act with free hands.

James H. Whitmore Of Duncan Dead

Duncan, May 14.—Duncan has lost one of its best-known pioneers in the death of James Henry Whitmore, who died here Tuesday.

Whitmore was born in London, Eng., in 1871, and came to Vancouver Island in 1892. He opened an insurance and bond business here in 1898.

Paris, May 14.—France has informed Great Britain and Belgium officially, authoritative sources disclosed yesterday, that Germany has fortifications and 300,000 "more or less armed men" in the formerly demilitarized Rhineland zone.

M'KIM'S NEW DIRECTORY OUT

Montreal, May 14.—Prefaced by a digest of the present-day condition of Canadian business, in which a steady increase in purchasing power as well as a cautious increase in actual spending are specially featured, the 1936 edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian publications is just off the press. It reports an increase in the Canadian publication field, listing the new total at 1,780.

Larger than its predecessors, this edition of the directory is the twenty-ninth in an unbroken annual series that was started by the McKim Advertising Agency in 1907, eighteen years after its founding in 1889.

Giving essential information about newspapers, magazines, farm journals, trade papers and miscellaneous publications, the directory also presents condensed, but highly useful market information about the particular cities and towns where publications are located. Populations, industries and outstanding characteristics of market areas are some of the features included.

As in past years, this directory will be sent to an ever increasing list of manufacturers and other firms in Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom, interested in advertising in Canada. Inquiries concerning the directory should be addressed to any of the six McKim advertising agency offices, at Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Vancouver, Halifax and London, England.

LIBERAL HEAD IS RE-ELECTED

The annual meeting of the Esquimalt District Liberal Association, which took place on Tuesday evening in Luxton Hall, was attended by eighty delegates representing all parts of the constituency.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Honorary president, Hon. T. D. Fairbairn; president, C. E. Whitney-Griffiths; first vice-president, J. F. Mesher; second vice-president, T. P. Barry; secretary-treasurer, T. T. Fullan.

The building of the West Coast Road was discussed by the various delegates and the opinion was expressed that every effort should be made by the various locals toward having the undertaking proceeded with without any further delay.

Mr. Whitney-Griffiths, in thanking the delegates for his re-election, said that the interests of the riding would continue to receive his best attention and he was thankful for the close co-operation that he had received from the local associations during the past year.

Post Names Its New Committees

The monthly business meeting of the Native Daughters of B.C. Post No. 3 was held yesterday evening in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, with the worthy chief factor Miss Jean Lorimer presiding.

Following the opening of the meeting Mrs. Mildred Grant was installed as chief guide, the installing officer being Mrs. F. Webb.

The rummage sale held recently by the Post was very successful and the Post thanked all members who so kindly donated goods and also those who helped at the sale.

Mrs. L. Lorimer reported on a joint meeting with the Native Sons of B.C. on the plan of a "new deal" for Vancouver Island. A joint meeting of the Posts will be held on Friday, May 29, in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, at 8 o'clock, when various speakers will give their views on this subject.

The new committees for the coming year were appointed, also the new delegates to the Local Council of Women meetings.

Reports were given by various members. The sick committee reported on several members who were ill.

The next meeting will be a social gathering and will be held on May 27. The hostesses for the evening will be Miss Mildred Chrow, Mrs. R. Cruickshank, Mrs. W. Kinsman and Miss P. Kinnaird.

The attendance prize was won by Miss Margaret Andrews.

Glee Club Wins Norwegian Cup

Vancouver Choirs Do Well in B.C. Music Festival

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 14.—Of interest to Norwegians throughout the province was the contest held here yesterday evening for the Nomads Arvudaks cup held by the Norwegian Glee Club, which fell to the Lyric Glee Club led by Dorothea Hamblin, Vancouver, at the British Columbia Musical Festival. The marking was 171.

Arthur Cranmer, D. T. Yacimini and Harold Samuel were the judges. Five choirs entered the lists, including one conducted by Mrs. F. E. B. McCree, Edmonton, contralto.

In class 28 for day school choirs, the Lieut-Governor's cup was awarded to Carleton School, Vancouver, Mildred Robertson conducting and winning 179 marks.

In the open piano class Winifred Sutherland, Vancouver, took 228 marks for her playing of Brahms "Intermezzo" and Ireland's "Bank Holiday." Emilie Cushing, formerly of Edmonton, came second with 222 marks.

The Junior Musical Arts Society will hold its last monthly meeting for the season tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. T. W. A. Gray at 8 o'clock.

An enjoyable programme has been arranged, including two guest artists, Miss Gwen Harper, pianist, and Miss Catherine Denison, contralto. The junior members taking part will be Rosemary Parfitt, soprano; Billy Ingalls, pianist, and Alan Paver, violinist.

Also of great importance to the members will be the election of officers for the coming year.

This will be followed by refreshments and dancing.

MEMBERSHIP TEA SUCCESS

Enjoyable Affair Sponsored By Esquimalt Catholic Women's League

Mrs. F. J. Harris, president of Esquimalt Subdivision Catholic Women's League, assisted by Mrs. Potts, vice-president, received the many guests and friends of the subdivision at a delightful membership tea held in the church hall of Our Lady Queen of Peace yesterday afternoon.

Miss Harriet O'Brien, diocesan president, and Mrs. W. McManus, diocesan organizer, were among the guests, and Miss O'Brien spoke during the afternoon on the aims and objects and the gratifying success of the league during the past year, and congratulated the Esquimalt subdivision upon their united effort which accomplished so much. Rev. Father Wood, diocesan chaplain, welcomed the members and friends and spoke in commendation, encouragement and hope for the future activities of the league. The support and interested co-operation in all that is being undertaken by the young people should be a special objective of the league, and Father Wood suggested that a keen appreciation and loyalty be shown them by the older people of all the parishes.

Afternoon tea was served from a table in the centre of the hall, pink tulips and white tapers being used in its decoration, and Mrs. M. Pagan and Mrs. H. Fair presided.

Spring flowers were displayed effectively throughout the hall. Mrs. D. Pedersen and Mrs. Gerald Pagan were responsible for the decorations. The refreshments were in charge of Mrs. T. O'Leary, Mrs. H. Craven, and Mrs. H. Temple. Assisting with the serving were the Misses Mary Hamill, Rosella MacDonald, Madeline Craven and Margaret Harris. A home-cooking stall was under the co-operation of Mrs. F. Allan and Mrs. J. Therratt and was well patronized. Mrs. Gerald Pagan and Mrs. A. Pedersen received subscriptions and issued membership cards.

A musical programme included vocal solos by Miss E. Allan, who sang "Ave Maria," accompanied by Miss Helen McManus, who also accompanied Miss Patricia Cummertford in "The Rose of Tralee," Miss Elaine Basanta, "The Fair," accompanied by Betty Hemmingsen; the Misses Joan Holland, Dorcas Muir and Elaine Basanta, all pupils of St. Ann's Academy, were also heard in the trio, "On the Laughing Waves," accompanied by Miss Julie Byron.

It was announced that the Esquimalt Young People's Club will repeat their minstrel show on May 26 in the auditorium of St. Ann's Academy, for the benefit of St. Ann's.

SOLARIUM ASKS FOR BLANKETS

With sixty-five little patients in the Queen Alexandra Solarium, and a number on the waiting list, the institution is finding its supplies inadequate to meet the heavy demand. An appeal is therefore made to generous friends for blankets for the use of the children. Anyone wishing to donate same may send them to the Solarium office, 220 Pemberton Building.

Business Clubs Meet in Paris

International Federation to Hold Congress There July 26 to August 1

A programme so live and vital that it cannot fail to appeal to all who have the interests of business and professional women at heart has been arranged for the Second International Congress of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women, dates for which are now definitely announced as July 26 to August 1, and the place as the Hotel Lutetia, Paris.

This programme will strike at once at the most crucial problems which affect the wage-earning women of the world, reflecting the viewpoint of leaders from many lands as to unemployment, fluctuations in the wage scale, specific discriminations against women and related matters.

FULL AGENDA

As tentatively outlined, the programme calls for a reception in honor of the delegates on Sunday, July 26, at 5 p.m., a meeting of the board of directors on Monday, July 27, from 9.30 to 12.30, meetings of the various committees from 3 to 5 in the afternoon and the opening session of the convention at 8.45 in the evening. Besides the formal addresses of welcome, this session will be given over to the address of the president, Miss Lena Madelin Phillips.

A business session will follow on Tuesday morning, July 28, from 9.30 to 12.30 and a public session from 3 to 6, at which the topics discussed will be "Women's Contribution to the Modern World." This will be divided into three sub-topics, dealing with the activities of women in the fields already outlined: commerce, science and the arts and professions.

A second public session will be held July 29 to discuss "Business and Professional Women the World Around," in which the handicaps with which women are confronted and their possibilities for advancement will be considered. Three-minute reports from member countries will be devoted to specific handicaps, including instances of discrimination or attempted discrimination, and a thirty-minute address will follow, summarizing the whole situation, under the title "The Woman Who Works—Is She Going Forward or Back?"

In the afternoon reports of programme and projects from member countries will be given, and in the evening a third public meeting will be held of which the theme will be "The Effect of Government and the Progress of Women." This will be presented from three different viewpoints—with relation to Fascism, Communism and Democracy.

Thursday morning, July 30, a fourth public meeting will be held. "The Way Out" will be the theme. Speakers will discuss "The Way Out as It Has Been Found" and give practical instances of how women have met and combated discrimination. Other speakers will outline "The Way Out as It Might Be Found."

That same afternoon will come a meeting of the delegates under the auspices of the legislative committee, of which Helena Normanton, England's first woman barrister, is chairman, to shape a programme and policies for the ensuing year, based upon the findings of the convention. The banquet, for which theme and speakers are yet to be announced, will be held in the evening.

Friday, July 31, will be given over entirely to business sessions during the daytime, with attendance at the Paris Opera House planned for the evening.

City Temple Y.P.S. Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Victoria City Temple Young People's Society was held Tuesday, G. A. A. Hebbden, the honorary president, was the chairman. The annual reports of secretaries and treasurer and other officers were read and presented, and a warm vote of appreciation was unanimously passed to these officers. These reports together with those of the conveners of membership showed a fine record of active participation and interest in every good cause sponsored by the society. The financial report was especially gratifying.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was as follows: Miss Pearl Findlay was named president to succeed Miss Ruth Hanson, who became past president; Andy Swaluk was elected vice-president; Miss Sybil Crawford, recording secretary; Miss Doris Townsend, corresponding secretary; Miss Elsie Clarke, treasurer; Ed Cliff, literary convener; Eric Driver, citizenship convener; Miss Doris Gascoigne, devotional convener; Miss Marguerite Shepherd, social convener; Miss Ruth Hanson, publicity agent; and Miss Jean Earl, pianist.

At the conclusion, plans were made for the annual banquet to be held on Wednesday, May 20, at 6.30 o'clock, all members are reminded to attend this gathering as it will be the last indoor meeting of the season.

Publicity chairman reported that last month brought to a close the contest for another year. Monday, May 25, being a holiday, the social meeting of the chapter will be canceled. Miss D. Guelph announced details of carnival, dance and progressive 500 card party to be held that evening, with committee of Senior Regent E. Jane, Mesdames O. Randy, M. Morry and R. Panting, to make it success. Donations of cake will be appreciated, and members desiring to give one please phone 27794. It was decided to postpone the banquet till the fall and have as guests Nanaimo Chapter.

Your Baby And Mine
By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

IF BABY WON'T EAT, DON'T TRY TO FORCE HIM

Almost as soon as the mother gets her baby satisfactorily on a routine of feeding, the baby upsets the apple cart. Mary let us say, is between six and seven months old. Having been introduced to solid foods at four months, by this time Mary is well used to orange juice, cereal, egg yolk, sieved vegetables, custard and sieved fruits. Mary's gain is excellent and the machinery of feeding is moving without a creak.

Then, without warning, Mary will eat all of her solid food hungrily, but scream at the sight of the bottle or cup. Urged to drink, she fusses, pushes the bottle away, wrings her head nearly off her neck in an effort to evade the nipple, and finally ends by taking a bare three ounces of the eight designed for her.

"JACK SPRAWL COULD EAT"

Peter is about the same age, but his case is the opposite. He wants and will drink every drop of the eight ounces offered him by bottle, but his peas go over his lip, his countenance or his mother's apron, his cereal meets a stubbornly closed mouth, his sieved fruit is flung away by a petulant hand.

Such behavior seldom lasts the week out—if the child really is not overfed—if nothing very much is done about it. The fussing, the forcing—the mother's anger and disturbance—all have had effect upon the child. He learns, even at 7 months, that he can be victorious if he chooses.

NO TUG OF WAR

It is better to rob the whole proceeding of any aspect of a tug of war. Present the food, and the bottle, as usual, and when the baby shows plainly that he does not want one or the other, take it away. Our leaflet, "Reason for Appetitelessness," goes into the whole subject further. It may be had for a self-addressed and 3-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

But experience proves that if nothing is done, some day, just as suddenly as it started, the child's disdain of food will disappear, and he will accept the spurned bottle or food with gusto.

Such a tasty Meat Pie wins the applause of everyone!

A FEAST of tasty goodness that no one can resist. That's the difference Yorkshire Relish makes to all your meat dishes.

It takes four years to make a bottle of Yorkshire Relish. Its flavor is matured from more than 20 carefully selected fruits, vegetables, herbs, spices, essences, measured and blended with test tube accuracy, steeped in cool vats for four years to produce this mellow, piquant, flavorful sauce.

Yorkshire Relish does you good, too. Its aromatic herbs and spices stimulate the gastric juices and help digestion.

Recipe for Rideau Meat Pie

1 lb. top round steak.
1 1/2 cups boiling water.
1 1/2 tablespoons Yorkshire Relish.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon pepper.
Cut steak into 1-inch cubes. Soak here, and cut kidneys in fine cubes. Try out fat removed from steak; add onion and stir till browned. Add meat and 1 tablespoon butter; stir constantly until well browned. Remove to stew-pan. To fat remaining in pan add boiling water and strain; add Yorkshire Relish, salt, pepper. Pour over meat, and cook slowly on back of range until tender. Strain off liquid remaining in pan and thicken with remaining butter and flour. Cool meat.

See how flavorful Yorkshire Relish is. Pour a few drops into a teaspoon, then stir it. What flavor!—Hot, yet sweet; no other sauce can impart such delicious flavor to your cooking.

Halibut Control Proving Success

Commission's Report to Canadian and U.S. Governments Says Spawn and Average Size of Fish Increasing in North Pacific

An increase in the spawning of halibut off the British Columbia coast has already commenced as the result of the regulation of the fishery by the International Fisheries Commission, started five years ago, according to the ninth report of the commission submitted to the governments of Canada and the United States today and made public here by John P. Babcock, chairman.

During the last few years a vessel has been sent off the coast each winter to make net hauls and these indicate the increase in spawning. The commission is also carrying on an extensive examination of the commercial catch which, so far, has proved there has been an increase in the average size of older fish and the relative numbers of them.

"It seems evident that the halibut banks are on the way to recovery," says a summary of the report. "The increase in the spawning stock which is now taking place is unmistakable, and should go on until the spawn produced allows a permanently greater fishery."

Future policy of the commission will be to follow the changes in the fishery produced by its regulations.

the aim being to get the highest possible annual yield.

The report gives the first comprehensive survey of the concrete results of the big experiment in fishery control by Canada and the United States.

MUST RESTORE BANKS

Restoration of the yield on the older banks is feasible and is the only possible course of action, the report says. Formerly, the fishery extended to new grounds as the old were depleted, but now the best of the world's halibut banks have already been exploited.

Each section of the banks must depend upon its own supply of spawn and has accordingly been placed upon a self-perpetuating basis.

An explanation is made of the drop in the halibut supply prior to 1930 and the means taken to restore it.

NOW CATCH DROPPED

The catch per unit of gear fell

SO, FRANCE MUST DO WITHOUT MONSIEUR LOP

Maitre Ferdinand Lop (left) dourly presides over a meeting of his followers as they accord him their two-fingered salute.

By MORRIS GILBERT

Paris, May 14.—France didn't wait for him, and now France must look after herself as best she can. She must do this, for a little while longer, without the help of Maitre Ferdinand Lop.

Such is the only conclusion to be drawn from the failure of Paris voters to elect Monsieur Lop to the Chamber of Deputies in the recent national balloting. It is not Monsieur Lop's fault, certainly. Nobody can say he didn't give fair warning.

"Send for Lop!" The cry is frequently rung through the lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies. "The Premier wants to see Lop!" The cry rings in times of crisis. The slender, be-spectacled Monsieur Lop rises and hurries with his long stride toward the ministerial bureau.

There has been some mistake. Monsieur Lop questions the man who called, the guards and functionaries of the Chamber. "No, Monsieur Lop—I didn't call your name," they say. "There must have been a mistake."

Once again France has failed to send for the man whose councils will save the nation.

SLUTE HAS DOUBLE MEANING

For many years Ferdinand Lop has represented a few provincial papers as a Paris correspondent. Thus he has long possessed a press card which admitted him to the Chamber. Almost as long, he has had it in his head that he is destined to save France. The other correspondents have always encouraged him to think so. And, indeed, if laughter is a tonic, and diversion an important thing in a time of tension, Lop has saved the nation more than once.

This year he ran as a candidate for deputy. He had the support of a big organization of students in the Latin Quarter. He invented his own programme, it was they who invented the symbol of his party—two fingers of the right hand raised sky-high in a gesture which, in France, generally has a humiliating meaning if waved, for example, above the head of somebody's husband.

"The Man France is Waiting For!"—that was the theme-song of Ferdinand Lop's candidacy. His platform was dynamite. It advocated complete renovation and reform of the state and of legislation, votes for women, reduction of the number of deputies and senators, reform of the law courts, struggle against the high cost of living, unemployment, pension abuses and reorganization of all government bureaus.

One of the principal planks was to lower the price of bus tickets in Paris.

PLANS NEXT CAMPAIGN ALREADY

Surrounded by his cohorts, Lop swept through the streets of the Latin Quarter, holding meetings, which were frequently uproarious. "Lop! Lop!" roared the crowds, waving their two-fingered salute above their heads.

His chief rival was a certain Maitre Henri, who persisted in heckling Lop meetings, until Lop's strong-arm squad had orders to chuck him out on sight.

Maitre Henri appeared, however, at one last meeting, apparently to surrender. "I agree with everything that Maitre Lop has said," he cried, and at this astonishing remark, the chief-plain let him continue.

"Maitre Lop has declared that his family has been seeking to serve France since the sixteenth century," Henri shouted, "and I have the proof—"

With that he produced an ancient hat, a real museum piece.

"See this topper," he said. "Inside it is the name LOP. What better proof could there be that the Lop family, for hundreds of years, has been talking through its hat?"

from 272 pounds in 1906 to thirty-six pounds in 1930, on the grounds off British Columbia. Off South-eastern Alaska the decline was from 180 pounds in 1914 to fifty-four pounds in 1928, and in the Gulf of Alaska from 320 pounds in 1915 to sixty-five pounds in 1930. The total catch dropped from 60,000.00 pounds in 1912 to 22,500.00 pounds in 1930.

Regulation of the fishery commenced by limiting the total catch to the amount that was caught in the year the commission took control. Showing how the stock has increased, the catch per unit of gear on the grounds between Dixon Entrance and Vancouver Island has jumped from thirty-six pounds in 1930 to sixty pounds last year. Similar increases have been shown in other areas.

The report discusses in detail the life history of the halibut, which has been under continual study. Each stage in the development of the fish has been traced and preserved in photographs. The egg is one-seventh of an inch in diameter, one of the largest floating marine eggs. It comes out as a transparent thread-like larval fish.

At first it swims upright with an eye on each side. Then the body gets deeper and assumes color on the right side. Then the eye migrates, over the top of the head to the colored side and the fish begins to swim in a horizontal position, settling to the bottom.

Currents along the coast, especially the Japanese stream, have been carefully studied in their effect on drifting of the halibut young. The Japanese stream, it has been found, divides at the north end of Vancouver Island in the summer and early fall, but much farther south during the winter and spring.

Alderman Walter Luney Speaks in Favor of Move For Fewer Aldermen

Alderman Walter Luney's motion to reduce the size of the City Council from ten to six, aldermen progressed another step toward general debate yesterday afternoon but was shelved for a full meeting of the council after he had spoken shortly in favor of it.

His resolution was laid over to the next meeting, along with another brought in by him suggesting a two year term for the mayor, and two motions submitted by Alderman J. D. Hunter seeking special grants for Victoria from the provincial and federal governments.

"All British Columbia, as we know, is overgoverned," Alderman Luney remarked as he spoke to his council reduction motion.

"I believe Victoria would be better governed with fewer aldermen, along lines adopted in Vancouver."

He drew attention to the situation when placed a larger number of aldermen on the less important committees.

COULD MERGE COMMITTEES

"You'd find it a very easy matter to merge our twelve committees into four and you would get better action," he said, addressing the mayor.

With fewer aldermen on the board the city would get more business running, he believed. He cited the case of last week's meeting on estimates, which, he said, would have been greatly speeded had the council been of fewer numbers.

"Anyhow," he added, "the decision would be left to the elector to decide by plebiscite."

The number of aldermen was fixed

LIBRARY CUT IS EXPLAINED

Reduction Made After Agreement With Board, Aldermen States

Organizations which wrote letters to the City Council protesting against the reduction in the city's grant to the Public Library will be informed the reduction was made with the agreement of the library.

Letters to that effect will go forward to four groups, protests from which were read at yesterday's council meeting.

Alderman Brown presented a motion to that effect after asking if the organizations represented any residents of Saanich and Esquimalt. He was told some of them did.

He asked if Saanich or Esquimalt made any grant to the library, and was told they did not.

Alderman McGavin said he thought the reduction should have been $10,000, and believed the library was getting off lightly with a cut of $300.

Alderman J. D. Hunter stated the library had not agreed to the cut willingly and that the institution would be eventually ruined by that type of action if it were maintained.

OAK BAY WINS DEBATE SHIELD

Defeats Victoria High to Hold Trophy For Second Year

Jacqueline Tweed and John Meredith, trained by Miss Patricia Hamilton-Smith of the Oak Bay High School staff, yesterday afternoon won for Oak Bay High for the second year the Modern History Club shield, emblematic of the championship of Greater Victoria.

Debating against them were Bill Stone and Chester Wilson, both members of Beta Delta, for the Victoria High School, trained by Leslie Hardie and Harry Gilliland.

The subject debated was: "Resolved, that the power to amend the British North America Act should remain in the hands of the British Parliament."

The Oak Bay team presented the affirmative, Miss Tweed dealing with the issue from the point of view of internal affairs, and Meredith approaching it from the international angle. These treatments were respectively replied to by Wilson and Stone.

Judging the debate were B. C. Nicholas, editor of The Victoria Daily Times; John Gough of the Victoria Normal School, and R. T. Wallace of Victoria College.

CONGRATULATES SPEAKERS

Announcing the judges' verdict, Mr. Nicholas declared the work of the two teams had produced the best debate he had ever judged. He spoke of the excellence of the preparation and treatment, the style of the debaters and the excellence of the subject chosen. He went on to speak for some minutes on the proposal to amend the B.N.A. Act.

The debate, which was held in the Oak Bay High auditorium, was attended by a full house of pupils from both schools.

ASK BOARD USE CITY OFFICIAL
The City Council yesterday afternoon decided to refer to the school board a letter from the Victoria Ratepayers' Association suggesting the supervision and repair of schools be placed under the jurisdiction of the city building inspector.

Following the reading of a letter from the association advancing that suggestion, Alderman P. R. Brown said the board had declined to take that action in former years. He moved a copy of the letter be sent to the school board with a request to co-operate along lines of economy.

Regarding a letter from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, asking for an inquiry over the reported action of a school trustee, the council was informed it had no jurisdiction in the matter.

The city clerk was instructed to acknowledge the letter from the Trades and Labor Council and explain the city's position.

Boscowitz sat in the North and won South's opening lead of the nine of clubs with the ace, declarer discarding the king of clubs. At this point, if a club were returned, declarer would make four heart tricks and four diamond tricks, as he still would have every suit stopped and could afford to finesse the diamonds. A nice defensive play came when North shifted to the eight of spades. This trick was won in dummy with the jack.

Now the diamond finesse was taken, South winning with the king. He returned a spade, and North was able to cash his ace, king and ten-spot of spades, defeating the contract one-trick.

VETERANS' NIGHT TO BE ARRANGED

A special veterans' night and smoking concert will be held May 20 by Victoria Aeris No. 12, Fraternal Order of Eagles. It was decided by members last night in the course of a well-attended meeting at which Angus E. Chilton presided.

Arrangements for the evening's entertainment were left in the hands of A. Fynn, who will be assisted by Past President Dr. H. Clarke and Fred Cawsey.

Diplomas will be presented at the veterans' night to the following members: Harry Maynard, A. C. McDonald, A. C. Jeffries, F. Zeigler and R. N. Arnold.

The local aeris will be represented at the thirty-first annual convention, to be held at Walla Walla, Wash., by Frank LeRoy, past state president, and J. R. B. Graham, vice-president. The delegates received their instructions last night. Dr. Murray Blair, past state president, will attend the convention from Vancouver.

The Victoria members will not attend the fraternal gathering in Nansimo on May 22, it was decided.

ACE BEAUTY TRICKS ARE SIMPLEST
By ALICIA HART

Simple beauty tricks that take little time and even less money but which you practice regularly often do more for your good looks than complicated routines repeated only now and then. For instance, dashing ice water on face and throat every night and each morning will keep your skin more firm and healthy than will a bi-monthly application of cold tonic. You really need to use the tonic, of course, but, unless you can afford always to keep it on hand and have time to apply it, you had better do the next best thing—use ice water, and use it every day. Remember that olive oil is a simple remedy for chapped hands. Alternate applications of ice cold and quite hot water often will make a red nose less conspicuous.

When regular shampoos are out of the question for one reason or another, plain cornmeal is an effective dry cleanser. At night, rub the meal on scalp and hair, massage it a bit, wrap a towel around your head and go to bed. Next morning, brush for twenty minutes or until every trace of the meal is removed and your hair is clean, soft and shiny.

For roughened elbows and knees, try olive oil or white vaseline. If they are discolored as well as rough, use lemon juice first, then oil or vaseline.

Hollywood — Zasu Pitts, who used to be "scared to death" of airplanes, has changed her ideas about them since working in "Thirteen Hours by Air."

Late for a studio call to be on location at 3 o'clock in the morning, she was given an exciting ride out to the Alhambra airport.

Zasu had to be on time to take off with the rest of the troupe in a large cabin plane for a sequence of the picture. Arriving at the field, she got out of the cab breathless, looked over the foggy field and sighed. "Well," she said, "I'm glad the dangerous part of the trip is over."

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
I love my kitchen—the sheen of copper and aluminum, the blue of granite, the good smell of cooking. It's work, though, to keep it looking and working right. You need to know plenty about the materials of which your pots and pans are made.

The popular aluminum comes in many brands and weights. The heavier the metal the longer it will last, but all aluminum wears well and is light to handle. Despite all the scientific research that has gone on for the past few years I still hear housewives worry about the stains in aluminum saucepans. If you remember that alkali is the darkening agent for aluminum you can care for it accordingly. A neutral soap for washing, wood for scraping (half a clothsoplin for cleaning and a wooden spoon for stirring during cooking) and very fine sandpaper or steel wool with thorough scalding and wiping will keep aluminum utensils in excellent condition.

WHEN ENAMELWARE SCORCHES
Enamelware requires gentle handling. Since hard knocks make it chip. Nor will it usually stand intense heat without checking, which leads eventually to chipping. However, it has little tendency to discolor and stains are easily removed with any good scouring powder. Wood must be used for scraping and stirring in enamelware, too, because metal scratches the glaze and makes dark streaks. Hot soapuds, thorough scalding and drying keep this material at its best. If food sticks and burns let the pan cool before putting water in it. Then soak and scrape off the burned particles of food. If the burning was bad and some of the spots are obstinate, melt a small amount of fat slowly in the pan and scrape again.

Glass is a favorite for ovenware and is proving itself just as efficient for top-of-stove cookery. It never stains, is easy to clean and light to handle. If food sticks, it usually will soak right off. Discoloration will disappear with an application of a mild scouring powder. If you would keep your glass clear and shining, wash in hot soapuds, scald and dry. Don't confuse heatproof glass with the glass used for measuring cups, mixing bowls and miscellaneous dishes manufactured for kitchen use. Unless you are sure such articles are made of a glass constructed to withstand the strain of expansion and contraction, don't try to use them in the oven or on top of the stove.

The various pottery and heatproof chinawares are cared for in the same way as glass. There's one precaution to keep in mind when you are using utensils made of glass, pottery or heatproof china—don't put a hot dish on a wet surface.

CARE OF IRON UTENSILS

Iron utensils often are covered with a thin coating of shellac when shipped from the factory. This must be removed and the iron seasoned before using. First let the utensil stand for several hours in water in which washing soda has been dissolved. Then wash in warm soapuds. Heat, rub with unadorned fat, let stand in a warm oven for two or three hours, then heat to the smoking point. Cool and wash in hot soapuds, scald and dry. Rub well with fat for the second time, heat slowly and thoroughly in the oven. Wipe off surplus fat with a soft crumpled paper and the utensil is ready to use. All cooking utensils should be washed thoroughly in clean hot suds, rinsed in scalding water and dried carefully with clean dry towels. Dampness encourages the growth of bacteria and produces an unpleasant odor of mustiness that will flavor the food.

Basketball Players Guests at Appreciation Dinner; Many Sportsmen Pay Tribute to Wonderful Showing of Team; Players Express Thanks to Fans

Wednesday Team Goes to Nanaimo

An all-star aggregation selected from the Victoria Wednesday Football League will journey to Victoria Dominos lost the Canadian basketball championship, but any doubt as to their continued popularity in this city was certainly dispelled after yesterday evening's appreciation dinner extended to the boys at the Empress Hotel by a number of supporters and sportsmen. With nearly forty in attendance and a wonderful spirit of friendliness existing, the affair proved an outstanding success.

W. H. Bland, who in co-operation with J. A. "Barney" Barnwell and Dr. Thomas Miller, was responsible for at-

The many speakers who rose to their feet during the evening all paid great tribute to the wonderful sportsmanship and team spirit of the Dominoes. They praised the boys for their magnificent showing in the Canadian playdowns, even though they were beaten by Windsor Fords in the final, and expressed the hope the club would continue to provide Victorians with first-class entertainment for many more seasons.

TOAST TO DOMINOES

In proposing the toast to the Dominoes Dr. Miller said he considered it a great honor and he knew he was expressing the sentiments not only of Victorians but of all the sports fans of British Columbia. "People of the west appear to have a tremendous respect for the game of dominoes," he said.

anywhere else. Canade and that spirit is no better exemplified than by our own Dominicos." Dr. Miller said. "They are a grand bunch of fellows who can smile in defeat the same as in victory." Dr. Miller's toast was a splendid illustration of "Fraternalism." They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and giving three cheers.

Manager Dave Nicol, in replying, said he was speaking to what he considered a gathering of real fans. The manager said he was certainly proud of the team he was privileged to manage and told of the wonderful impression the Dominicos left in every city they visited during their recent trip. "We did our best and lost, but there is always another year," Nicol said. In concluding, Manager Nicol paid great tribute to the wonderful work accomplished for basketball by James J. Braddock, king of the heavyweights, was on hand. So was Tony Canzoneri, the lightweight champion and recent conqueror of Canadian Jimmy MacLarin. Al Baba, new kingpin of the wrestlers, showed up wearing his red fed, but since this was a "Fraternalism" evening, they would not let Al in the picture.

Promoter, Mike Jacobs presented Joe with a big birthday cake. He was awarded a belt by Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring, and also was given the first copy of a new book "The Fight Man and the Fighting" which came off the press last night. This presentation was made by Ed Van Every, the author.

pression the Dominos left in every city which they visited during their trip. "We did our best," said Nicol, "there is always another year." Nicol said. In concluding, Manager Nicol paid great tribute to the wonderful work accomplished for basketball by "Barney" Barnwell, manager of the team when it played under the colors of the Blue Birds.

Johnny Johnson, president of the Dominos, described the team as the finest aggregation of athletes to ever leave this city in quest of a Canadian championship. "The trip was well worth it although the boys lost the championship," said Johnson. "Friendships the players made on the trip are something they will never lose. I felt confident the championship cup would soon be back in Victoria."

Johnson took the occasion to thank the fans of Calgary, Raymond, Saskatoon, Winnipeg and Windsor for the wonderful treatment extended to the Victoria party.

After being greeted with the singing of "Poor Old Barney Ain't What He Used To Be," Barney Barnwell told the players of how much the Victoria was awarded a belt by Nat Fleischer, editor of The Ring, and also was given the first copy of a new book "Joe Louis, Max Baer and Super Fights," which came off the presses today. This presentation was made by Ed Van Every, the author.

The belt was emblematic of Joe's victory in a poll of sports writers last winter to pick the man who did the most for boxing in 1935. Ninety-two per cent of the 144 writers voted for Louis.

While all this was going on, little Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, was laughing off newspaper reports that Madison Square Garden is seriously thinking of offering John Henry Lewis, the light-heavyweight champion, as an opponent for Braddock this year.

fans enjoyed the wonderful entertainment provided by the Dominos. The fine sportsmanship displayed by the members of the team should be encouraged and the team supporters to it could carry on indefinitely. "We appreciate it," Barney concluded.

Alderman James Adam said he was proud to be associated with the Dominos in the position of vice-president. There was no disgrace in the defeat at the hands of the Windsor team and the fine showing of the team under trying conditions was worthy of great praise, he said.

Jack Taylor, president of the Victoria and District Basketball League, paid tribute to the Dominos and expressed the wish the team would remain intact for next season. He promised his fullest support if the Dominos make another bid for Canadian supremacy.

PLAYERS THANK FANS

Individual members of the team were then called on to relate amusing and interesting experiences during the trip. The boys expressed their thanks and appreciation for the merited support given by the fans and said it was certainly a pleasure to play for a city that really got behind its athletes.

Alex. Robertson, chairman of the Victoria committee of the British Columbia Athletic Commission, brought congratulations to the British Columbian footballers and expressed the hope the Dominions would continue to experience their success in the basketball world.

Other speakers were: W. H. Bland, L. M. Sawley, sports editor of The Times, Dave Lewis and Frank Elliott representing the Dominions.

A. W. Trévett contributed two solo during the evening.

Boston Bees Prove Surprise Team of Major Baseball Leagues

Reorganized Club Moves Into Fifth Place In National

Takes Ten-Inning Battle From Pittsburgh; Yanks and Red Sox Win

ERRORS FEATURE IN COAST LOOP

One notch above all the other surprises of the major league baseball season, which include the miserable showings of last year's world series rivals, the Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs, the uncertain performances of the New York Giants and the complete failure of the St. Louis Browns hurling corps, comes the showing of the Boston Bees.

A hopeless tail-ender a year ago, the reorganized Bees have been showing signs of rejuvenation that can't be explained entirely by the new players they have acquired. By taking an exciting ten-inning battle from the Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday, 4 to 3, the Bees moved into fifth place in the National League ahead of Cincinnati's Reds, who took a 9 to 7 pounding from the Phillies.

More orthodox performances were seen in the American League where the New York Yankees and Boston Red Sox, running first and second, won the only other games that escaped rains.

The Yankees trimmed the St. Louis Browns, 4 to 1, behind Monte Pearson's flinging, while the Red Sox defeated the Tigers, 3 to 1.

GOOD RECORD
Not only have the Bees won eleven out of twenty-three games thus far to place just a game behind the Cubs, but their two ties and the overtime triumph yesterday indicate they have what it takes to come through in the clutch.

In the tenth "Descon Danny" MacFadden worked his rival, Waite Hoyt, for a pass to start the extra frame and took second on Bill Urbanski's sacrifice. At the crucial moment Baxter Jordan drove a hot single through the infield to end the ball game.

The Phils, who also have shown the ability to do some real damage to the leaders, hit more effectively than the Reds although each team got fourteen blows.

COAST LEAGUE
Errors figured in every Coast League baseball game yesterday and decided two of them.

The only two clubs whose score wasn't boosted by errors, lost because of their own fielding bobbles. Outfielder Max Eckert cracked up his right shoulder saving a 3 to 2 victory for the Missions with a true shooting catch. Seattle had two on and two out when pinch-hitter Johnny Baseler hit sharply to right for what should have been a base hit. West came in so fast and caught the ball so slow he bowed over on his shoulder.

One of the Mission runs came when Outfielder Mike Hunt let the ball roll through him.

Los Angeles, the only other club not helped by an error, lost to Sacramento, 5 to 4, because Carl Dittmar threw the ball away in the first inning.

With the tying run on third George Caster fanned his fifty-second man of the season to give Portland a 3 to 2 win over San Diego.

Jack La Rocca, Oakland, struck out ten Seals and allowed only seven hits to win 5 to 3. Each nine got one run on an error.

THE BIG SIX

With rain playing havoc with the schedule, only three members of baseball's Big Six saw action yesterday while holding their positions. Bill Brubaker of the Pirates, failed to get a hit, with the result his average declined thirty points to .422. In the American League, Rick Ferrell and Lou Gehrig each lost six as they got one hit in four times at bat.

INVESTIGATING DEATH
Vancouver, May 14 (Canadian Press)—Police today were investigating the death of Mrs. J. C. Piper. Police reported an autopsy disclosed that the death Tuesday resulted from alcoholic poisoning.

UNDERHILL RUGBY HEAD

Popular Vancouver Figure to Be President of British Columbia Union

Jack T. Underhill, popular Vancouver figure, was reported by H. J. Ketchen, Victoria, secretary of the British Columbia Rugby Union, to be the successor of Russell Ker, Victoria, as president of the provincial body.

Election of the president was left in the hands of the executive at the annual meeting in Vancouver. Mr. Ketchen said, and the elevation of Mr. Underhill to the position was assured.

Aubrey Vaughan, Vancouver, was made secretary, and Mr. Ketchen resigned.

Resignations of J. Crehan and J. C. Oswald, Vancouver, from the executive, were accepted with regret. Reports on last season's work were read and adopted.

OTHER OFFICERS
Patrons and other officers elected at the meeting follow: His Honor Lieutenant-Governor E. W. Hamber, honorary president; A. C. Hager, Nelson Stacey, B. Russell Ker, P. W. Rounstall, B. C. Nicholas, Mayor David Leeming, Mayor Gerry McGee, Commander Massey Goodson, late R.N.; Colonel Victor Spencer and Dr. R. E. McKenna, honorary vice-presidents; Colonel A. B. Gray, Aubrey Vaughan (representing Vancouver), Fred Cabellu and H. J. Ketchen (representing Victoria), members of the executive.

Russell Ker occupied the chair during the meeting and was highly praised for his fine work during the year.

AUSSIES TO SEEK GAMES

Will Make Bid For Olympiad in 1944, Harry Maloney, Back From Tour, Says

Australia, sports conscious to a degree equalled by few other countries at the present time, will make a strong bid for the 1944 Olympic Games and will be supported by the United States. Word to that effect was given by Harry Maloney, Stanford English rugby coach and internationally known athletic figure.

Mr. Maloney is at present staying in Victoria, having returned here from an extended tour to Australia, Jamaica and the eastern United States.

Should Australia be unable to secure the 1944 Games it will seek the 1946 Olympiad, he said.

The Australians were particularly keen on securing the sports feature, Mr. Maloney said. They propose to carry out the same procedure as that adopted by the United States for the Games in Los Angeles in 1932. They would build an Olympic village and would provide splendid stadiums for the events.

Melbourne, with lots of snow and other facilities within forty miles of the city, would stage the winter sports, with Sydney caring for the other half of the programme.

BIG STADIUMS
The big cities in Australia have splendid stadiums. The Sydney cricket grounds will seat 60,000 spectators and Melbourne's big centre will accommodate almost as many.

Big track and field meets have been held there and it would require but minor adjustments to change the turf running surfaces to the required cinder tracks, Mr. Maloney said.

Australia, he said, was prepared to secure a special ship with extensive deck space to permit the visiting teams to practice on their way to the games.

The prime mover in the drive for the Olympiad is Hon. Archdale Parkhill, Minister of Defence, Mr. Maloney said. Mr. Parkhill, he added, is securing the support of the government for the project.

"They realize it's about time they sold Australia to the rest of the world and they think the Olympic Games would be one of their most successful methods of accomplishing that objective," he said.

GAME FOR ALL AGES

As the tennis activities of King Gustaf of Sweden began to slow up under the weight of seventy-eight years, the star of Gem Hauling, fifteen-year-old Chinese girl phenom, ascended in the net world when she gave Dorothy Round, Britain's joint No. 1 player, a stiff tussle in London. The young Oriental is shown above in action during the match. Below, the Swedish ruler, surprisingly active considering his years, is shown in a recent doubles mat, teamed with Francis Jean Borotra, in Paris.

SAM PARKS HAS MADE OTHER PROS LIKE HIM FOR GREATEST VICTORY

Unknown Golfer Who Won United States Open Championship Last Season Has Finally Been Accepted by Boys; Generally Agreed He Was a Flash

New York, May 14.—Perhaps the most foreign figure in the golfing world today, Sam Parks Jr., the United States open champion, has finally won his victory.

When he won his title at Oakmont last year, the other pros turned away with a cool smile. The boys cried "Fluke." They howled about the unfairness of Oakmont. Writers said any one of fifty pros in the country could beat him four times out of five.

And Sam agreed. He was modest about his victory; in fact, he was actually embarrassed by it. He said he was only learning the game. He went to the professionals who ridiculed him and asked them to give him lessons.

When it came time to play in the winter tournaments he made the swing from California to Pinehurst, proving in every tournament that his critics were right. He took his beating regularly but in good humor. He spent what little money he had and charged it off to experience.

So today, it is generally accepted that he was a flash, a lucky young upstart with a steady putting stroke, a 75 shooter, a golfer with a loose, flustering backstroke. But the pros

SPENCERS AND BAYS VICTORS

Reach Final in Rennie and Taylor Cup Soccer; Clash Next Wednesday

Bitter rivals for many seasons for Wednesday Football League honors, Spencers and Hudson's Bay, were today finalists in the Rennie and Taylor Cup series. They were victors in the semi-final matches played yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Park.

Hudson's Bay nosed out the James Bay Wanderers 2 to 1 in the curtain raiser at the enclosure, while Spencers had not trouble trouncing the Navy 6 to 0, in the second game.

The victories will bring these two eleven-men teams together in the final. It should be one of the hardest fought battles of the season. The Bays-Wanderers tussle saw the teams fighting through a scoreless first half. Barney Barnwell starred for the departmentals in the last half by scoring two goals.

Play was saved during the early minutes of the match, but erratic shooting was the order, and no scoring was seen. Defence work was good, and the netminders were called on a few times to clear dangerous shots. After twenty minutes Kennedy was called for fouling, but the shot was cleared by Baxter, Hudson's Bay goalie. At the other end of the field Thane was caught roughing up Fish, as the wing man tried to get through for a goal. Stevens headed the kick ball over the posts. For the remainder of the half play was even.

Hudson's Bay got the opening goal soon after play had resumed. Barnwell got his first counter on a fresh ground shot, which bounced over the head of the goalie and into the net. Barnwell tried again soon after, but Sedler cleared. Holness, with a set-up facing him, sent the ball sailing over the crossbar. The green and gold weakened. Bays pressed heavily, but a stiff defence kept them out. At the thirty-minute mark another shot by Barnwell found the net.

The Wanderers rallied and their efforts were rewarded when Bob White broke through on an swift combination rush and beat Baxter with a fast shot from close in.

Joe Obce followed: Hudson's Bay—Baxter, Lorandini, O'Connell, Williamson, Kennedy, J. O'Connell, Fish, Barnwell, Holness, Stevens and Oakman.

James Bay—Saddler, Barnes, Thane, Fieldhouse, Magee, Beames, White, Rockamp, T. Belford, Oelling and Garnet.

SPENCERS WIN
Chalking up a pair of markers in the first half and four in the final session, and holding their opponents scoreless, Spencers won easily over the Navy.

Spencers started on the offensive from the kick-off and before three minutes elapsed they secured their initial tally. Maurice Speller, centre-forward, was responsible when he beat Munde. Navy goalie with a well-placed shot. For the next twenty-five minutes, Spencers held the upper hand and were never pressed by the sailors.

The Diamond 8 boys went two up with thirteen minutes of the half to

BOB PIRIE WILL MAKE U.S. TOUR

Toronto, May 14.—Bob Pirie, Toronto swimming star, will leave shortly on an extended trip through the United States to California, where he will swim against some of the leading American stars in order to get in shape for the Olympic trials. It was announced yesterday.

Tommy Walker, Winnipeg and Toronto swimming coach and Murray Griffin will take charge of Pirie on the trip. On their return Pirie will finish his training at Camp Arrowhead, Algonquin Park, where Tommy Walker is director in charge of activities.

Go when "Lefty" Williams picked the corner following a strong forward rush.

Bob Brown increased the department score when he scored on a lone effort soon after the resumption. Art Chapman was fouled and Eric Moir scored from a penalty shot.

Some time later a hard shot by Wally Stewart was good and the score soared another point, making it 5 to 0 for Spencers. Art Chapman finished the scoring of the day when he drew Munde out and pushed the ball into an empty net.

D. McMillan refereed.

The teams follow: Spencers—Stewartson, Munroe, Cann, L. Bradley, Chapman, Moir, Brown, Collins, Speller, Williams and Stewart.

Navy—Munde, Dovey, Tapley, Sinclair, Hibbert, Hutton, Bennalack, Calverley, T. Watt, McLean and Walker.

Wimpy's Capitals Win Hockey Game

Wimpy's Capitals advanced to the final of the under-eighteen division in the Royal Juvenile Roller Hockey League yesterday evening when they defeated the Roughriders, 7 to 6, in an overtime fixture. The Capitals won the first fixture, 4 to 1, to take the series in straight games. They will meet the Red Wings in the final.

When the score tied, 6 to 6, at the end of regulation time, Ralph Coles scored the winning goal for the Capitals early in the overtime. Scoring: Ludbrook and Sage were other scorers for the winners, while Arder, Rowe and the two Williams brothers scored for the Roughriders.

PRAISE WORK OF JOHN HART

Ward Four Liberals Commend Finance Minister

Praise for the work of Hon. John Hart, B.C. Minister of Finance, in steering the provincial treasury on to firm ground was voiced at a meeting of Ward Four Liberals Association yesterday evening by Major H. M. McGivern, president of the Victoria Liberal Association.

Mr. Hart, said the Liberal president, "is as good as any finance minister in Canada." In a reference to reports that Mr. Hart would be asked to stand in the federal by-election, Mr. McGivern said: "We can't let Mr. Hart go to Ottawa. He is too important here."

He told the meeting that the Liberals as yet had not chosen their candidate.

Dealing with federal matters, Mr. McGivern referred to Finance Minister Dunning's recent budget. It augured well for the Liberal regime that the budget had met with favor all over the country and had received the support of Conservatives.

He referred to his own efforts to have the appropriation for national defence increased. A larger sea force would mean the stationing of men on the B.C. coast, with additional buying power for the communities.

He urged ward groups to start strengthening their organizations in preparation for the federal by-election.

W. P. Lawson, president of the Twentieth Century Liberal Club, and W. H. Kinsman also spoke, discussing organizational matters.

A standing tribute to the late D. B. Plunkett, M.P., was paid.

Members also expressed sympathy in the death of Mrs. Emma Stocker, and instructed the secretary to write a letter of condolence to her son, Carl Stocker.

Two Charged With False Pretences

Peter J. H. Van Oudenol and James M. Potter were arraigned in the City Police Court this morning, charged with obtaining $400 by false pretences from Charles Desford.

At the request of Mr. Van Oudenol the case was remanded until tomorrow morning. Bail was set at $1,000 each.

Relief Complaints To Be Investigated

Reported complaints about the handling of relief in the Peace River district will be thoroughly investigated by two officials from relief department headquarters here, it was announced at the Legislative Buildings today.

They will go into the Peace River block shortly to make a personal survey of the situation there.

During the last session of the Legislature charges were made from the C.C.F. benches that relief administration in the district was being unfairly handled and that the proper government scale of allowances was not being paid.

All these and other matters dealing with the relief situation will be canvassed, relief authorities said.

Another provincial action dealing with the Peace River block was made public today. This deals with the cancellation of the reserve on a large section of the territory against pre-emption. This will throw quite an area open to settlement, it was explained.

Betty's contributions at the piano and in solo leaves one with the desire to go again. The party will be at Central Baptist Church each evening at 8 o'clock until Friday, May 22.

The next regular meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the committee room of the Chamber of Commerce. At the last meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce it was decided to devote one meeting to the question of roads on Vancouver Island and in the province of British Columbia as a whole, the appointment of a highway commission by the provincial government and a comparison between receipts which can be shown to have come directly from motorists and disbursements which are made for the purpose of improving the roads in the province.

MAN DROWNED IN KEMP LAKE

Lucien Scantland Victim of Swimming Tragedy; Companions Find Body

Lucien Scantland, thirty-one, of Otter Point Camp, was drowned yesterday evening in Kemp Lake, while swimming with companions. He failed to rise to the surface after diving from a rock into about fifteen feet of water.

The body was found by his companions, W. J. Johnson, M. A. Walling and D. Sherlock, who dragged from a boat.

Provincial Police Constable Elmer Holm and Thomas Byatt were summoned to the scene and escorted the body to McCall's Funeral Home, where an inquest will be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The men were all standing around a small fire before going in swimming. Two dived in and Scantland followed. After a few seconds his companions became alarmed and immediately secured a boat to commence dragging.

Born in Ontario, Mr. Scantland came to Victoria with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Scantland, who survive him at 477 Old Esquimalt Road. He is also survived by two brothers, Emil of Queen Charlotte Islands, and Robert of Port Alberni, and two sisters, Mrs. C. Adams of Victoria, and Mrs. G. Coulet of Penticton, Sask.

The funeral will be held on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock at Our Lady Queen of Peace Church with Rev. Father Wood officiating.

CLUB RECEIVES MEXICAN FLAG

Rotarians Hear Reports On Convention and Enjoy Dancing at Luncheon

The Victoria Rotary Club today added another national flag to its collection—the flag of Mexico. The little green, white and red banner was handed to President Herbert J. Pendray at the club's luncheon at the Empress Hotel by W. F. Pinfold, who had received it from the president of the Rosarita Club.

Mr. Pinfold briefly described a dinner meeting which he attended at Rosarita, in which three Mexican and two United States clubs took part. He was the first Rotarian ever to cross two borders to attend a meeting in the little Mexican city.

Two weeks ago the club was presented with the flag of Jersey, a St. Patrick's cross, by C. Le Mesurier, who is a visitor to Victoria at present from the Channel Islands.

The club today also heard reports from three members on various phases of the district convention held in Vancouver at the beginning of this week.

The sessions held in the Strand Theatre were reviewed by S. M. Armstrong, who mentioned the excellent attendance at the morning meetings, a proof of the popularity of District Governor Stanley Long. Mr. Armstrong briefly mentioned the speeches and entertainment features enjoyed at the theatre.

The pioneer breakfast held by members of the Rotary Pioneers—Rotarians with twenty-one or more years of club service—was reviewed by Jim Fletcher. Seventy-five of the 250 Rotary Pioneers of the district attended the breakfast, many of them, including James Beatty of Victoria, dressed in false beards and whiskers.

A trip to Newcastle Island in which 1,500 delegates took part, was described by Frank Turley. He reviewed the entertainment features offered on board the two ships which carried the Rotarians to the resort, and told of the ceremony in which Governor Long was made an Indian chief, the Indian wedding and the canoe races.

J. V. Johnson, president of the Victoria Dominions, spoke briefly of the team's trip east, saying that no finer collection of boys ever went out from this city in quest of a championship.

At the conclusion of the dances Mr. Pendray presented a corsage of flowers to Miss Powles, who acted as accompanist.

CAPTAIN LIVESEY NEW JAM MANAGER

The unification of growers' and manufacturers' organizations was seen today in the appointment of Captain E. Livesey as manager of the Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association and the Victoria Evaporator Company, to the management of the Holsum Packing Co. Limited.

The appointment was announced by A. H. Alexander, retiring manager, at a dinner given yesterday evening for Sydney Barker and Colin MacKenzie, two Holsum employees who are leaving Victoria for other jobs.

"As the evaporator plant is already there, it means that we have a more economical way of handling fruit," Captain Livesey said in an interview today. "Now the grower, dryer and manufacturer are practically speaking in one unit."

The new manager declared that he was going to specialize in pure fruit jams more than anything else. He was not in favor of so-called blended and pectin jams.

Obituary

HENRY WHITE

Many sorrowing friends yesterday attended the funeral of Henry White, who passed away in Vancouver last Sunday. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick conducted the service. The hymns, "Abide With Me" and "Lead, Kindly Light," were sung. The casket and hearse were banked with beautiful floral tributes. The following were the pallbearers: R. Carmichael, John Potts, L. H. Donaldson and D. Downing. The remains were laid at rest in the family plot in Ross Bay Cemetery.

DAVID ENG

Many friends attended the funeral of David Eng yesterday afternoon at the Chinese United Church. The service was conducted by Rev. Chow Ling, assisted by Rev. Mei Fong Leung of the Chinese Presbyterian Mission, Rev. C. Lee of the Good Hope Mission and Mr. Meyer of the Chinese United Sunday School. The hymns sung were "Nearer, My God, to Thee," "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Abide With Me." Words of tribute were spoken by E. C. Wilderspin, Miss M. Mossop and Lee Pak. The following were pallbearers: M. Bong, J. Gung, D. Chan, D. Gung, A. Wong, W. Lee. Interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

DAVID GRAHAM HUGHES

The funeral of David Graham Hughes, who died on May 9, took place yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Naval Veterans. Rev. Robert Connell conducted the service, during which Mrs. S. M. Morton read the sole, "The End of a Perfect Day," and the congregational hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "Brief Life is Here Our Portion." A large number of friends attended the service, and the many beautiful floral tributes which surrounded the casket bore testimony to the popularity of Mr. Hughes. The following acted as pallbearers: J. Primrose, J. Thompson, W. Holland, E. Bukin, Col. H. B. Cunningham and F. J. Merriman. The remains were laid at rest in Colwood Burial Park.

ANNIE CLELAND SIDWELL

The death occurred yesterday at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Mrs. Annie Cleland Sidwell, aged sixty-nine years, wife of Samuel Sidwell of Seattle, Wash. Mrs. Sidwell was born in Lanarkshire, Scotland, and had been a resident of Saanich for forty years. She was a member of the United Church at Shady Creek, and a member of the Pioneer Association of Saanich. She is survived by her widower; one son, S. E. Sidwell of Saanich; two grandchildren, Betty and Walter; and two sisters, Mrs. R. Marshall, Vancouver, and Miss L. Russell of Kelowna. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Rev. Thomas Keyworth will conduct the service, after which interment will in Shady Creek Cemetery.

GOOD FORTUNE WITH ANGLER

Good fortune was sitting beside Elbeek Wilson on Wednesday when he was fishing in the Cowichan River between the Rips and Dissepcher Pool. He got a fine last-minute catch of trout and retrieved his glasses after they had fallen into the swift-running waters.

Elbeek was accompanied by his father, Charles E. Wilson. They tried to get down to the Rips, but found the road impassable owing to logging operations in that district.

Elbeek came to what looked like a good spot for fish. He waded out but the swift current knocked him off his feet. He saved himself, but in the struggle his glasses fell off. He returned to shore, stripped himself of all but his B.V.D.s, and searched for fifteen minutes. Finally his fingers connected with the glasses. They were lodged in the rocks at the bottom.

Elbeek returned to his father's spot and found he had no luck with the fish. Just at dusk Elbeek decided to have a last-minute try at getting one fish at least. Then without warning the fish began to rise everywhere. Using a bucktail fly he landed half a dozen fish in less than half an hour. He had to quit owing to darkness.

Ward Three Liberal Association will hold a regular meeting tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the Liberal headquarters, Government Street. All members are requested to attend as business of importance will be up for discussion. C. J. MacDowell will give an address.

APRIL RELIEF LISTS LOWER

Reduction Shown in Number of Family Units Receiving Assistance

April relief figures, released by the city relief department today, showed a reduction of twenty-nine family units from the preceding month and twenty-seven less than April, 1935.

Last month 928 heads of families were on the lists, against 957 in March and 985 in April, 1935.

Single persons drawing assistance through that channel declined five from March, but were twenty-seven higher than April of 1935, the figures showed.

The decline in family units was largely attributable to the seasonal pick-up in industry. Lumber mills and machinery plants have absorbed a fair number of men out of employment and other industries have also taken some of the list.

There was a pronounced upswing in the number of single women joining the relief ranks, officials of the department reported.

WHISKY DEAL PROFITS LOST

Sam Levi Was to Have Got $2,500,000, But B.C. Distillery Cancelled Option

Justices of the Court of Appeal here today learned details of a deal for the sale of $45,000,000 of whiskies by the B.C. Distillery Co. Ltd. to distributors in United States.

After that, counsel for Sam Levi of New York, appealed from a refusal of Mr. Justice Murphy of the Supreme Court to allow Nicol Charles Wills of the distillery organization to be questioned as to who the proposed purchasers were.

Mr. Levi had an agreement in 1934 with the distillery company which gave him the right to deal behind the company's large holdings of whiskies to the U.S. trade. Mr. Levi argued that the distillery company had had Mr. Levi come to Vancouver, meet the distillery officials and reveal to them the names of the U.S. buyers.

DEER SEASON TO BE SHORTER

The open season on deer in the coast, or western, district of British Columbia, this year will be from September 12 to November 30 inclusive, according to provincial big-game regulations issued today.

The season is two weeks shorter than last year, when it extended from September 14 to December 15. The shooting of whitetail deer is not permitted this year. The season's bag limit remains at three bucks.

The open seasons for other big game in the western district are as follows:

Moose (male) September 1 to December 15.
Mountain-goat (except Vancouver Island) September 12 to November 30.
Bear (except white or kermode) September 12, 1936, to June 30, 1937.
Beaver and muskrat (north of 51st parallel, except Queen Charlotte Islands) March 1 to April 30, 1937; Lillooet, December 1, 1936, to April 30, 1937; rest of district except Vancouver Island, December 1, 1936, to February 28, 1937.
Otter (except sea-otter) north of 51st parallel and Lillooet except Queen Charlotte Islands, December 1, 1936, to April 30, 1937; rest of district December 1, 1936, to February 28, 1937.
Lillooet, December 1, 1936, to April 30, 1937; rest of district except Vancouver Island, December 1, 1936, to February 28, 1937.

Bag limits are one wapiti, one moose, two grizzly bear and three of any other species, two mountain-goat, two deer in the eastern district and three in the western district.

HOTEL LOBBY GOSSIP

J. J. Seitz, Toronto, is in Victoria today on one of his frequent visits to the Empress Hotel. He is president of Underwood Elliott Fisher Limited and of the Peerless Carbon and Ribbon Company.

J. Duff Stewart, a Vancouver man in Victoria today. He is registered at the Empress Hotel and will return to the mainland this afternoon.

On their way home from attending the Rotary International convention in Vancouver, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. Pickens and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sisson, from Portland, are stopping off in Victoria for the day. They arrived at the Strathcona Hotel last night and will continue on the way home this evening.

A. A. Selver of the United States Tourist Service, Portland, is among visitors at the Dominion Hotel.

Miss Constance Brandon, New York City, international secretary of World Dominion Movement, an evangelical organization, has arrived at the Strathcona Hotel for a visit of several days. Miss Brandon makes regular summer trips to this city.

One of the most miserable winters imaginable, living in a ghost town with a population now totaling only forty, and in some of the coldest weather on record, was described this morning by E. Ross Oatman, government agent at Anxox and former hockey star here, who is in Victoria for a week's holiday with Mrs. Oatman and their study and blue-eyed three-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Frances.

SIDE SHOWS FOR MAY 25

Adding to the general carnival flavor of Victoria's celebration of May 24, the Crescent Canadian Shows will have rides and other entertainment attractions in full swing at the corner of Cormorant and Blanshard Streets during the festivities here, George Allison, chairman of the group in charge of that department of the fête, announced today.

Children and adults alike are expected to throng in thousands to the side-shows and rides which will feature the midway.

Among the rides will be the ferris wheel, merry-go-round, loop-o-plane and others, while in the booths will be fishponds, games, freak houses, miniature shows and many other features calculated to catch the attention of the citizens in festival mood.

The midway will open on Friday of next week and continue over until Monday night.

ACROBATS READY FOR "Y" CIRCUS

With the arrival of the Aerial Pats this morning, the team of acrobats who will feature the annual Y.M.C.A. circus, the stage is set for the big show which will be held tomorrow and Saturday evenings in the Horse Show Building at the Willows, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

A fine programme has been arranged by the circus committee of the "Y" and one of the best performances in many years is assured. Animals, clowns, acrobats, gymnasts and stunts poses will be among the fine acts billed on the programme.

The clowns will be featured by a big Wimpy and a big Popeye, well-known characters of the comic pages and other funny men who will gambol their way in and out during the programme.

Always popular with the crowd, the living statues will be in silver this year instead of gold as they have been formerly.

A squad of boys and girls will work together in a lighter acrobatic act featured by hand-stands and cartwheels. The team includes Theresa Lee Warner, Doreen Dale-Johnson, Mary Sparrow, Irene Brockington, Francis Borde, Doreen Borde, Christine Reed, Irene Holmes, Betty Cull, Phyllis Bechizka, Len Oliver and Chris McEae.

EMPLOYMENT BOARD NAMED

Ottawa, May 14.—Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of Labor, today announced personnel of the National Employment Commission.

The list:

Arthur B. Purvis, Montreal, chairman; A. N. McLean of Black's Harbor, N.B.; Alfred Marois of Quebec; Tom Moore, Ottawa; Mrs. Mary M. Sutherland of Wells, B.C.; W. A. Mackintosh of Kingston, Ont.; E. J. Young, Dunsmuir, Sask.

The justices dismissed the appeal brought by A. D. Macdonald, K.C., counsel for Charles Thomas Galloway, against the $10,000 damages assessed against him by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald of the Supreme Court for contributing to the death of the husband of Margaret Laing in a motor crash on the Grandview Highway,

What more inviting a scene than this for the opening of the beach season in the California film area? It shows a happy contingent of movie colonists sunning themselves and enjoying whatever it may be out there, at the year's first Hollywood beach party, given by Kent Taylor, screen star. The group includes, left to right, Phyllis Brooks, Taylor, Henry Wadsworth and Irene Ware.

Police Story At Columbia Theatre

The compelling personality which Sidney Blackmer, suave screen villain, masterfully demonstrates as a prominent lawyer in Mascot's "Behind the Green Lights," dramatic police story which opened at the Columbia Theatre today, comes from a heritage of leadership.

Other prominent stars in Mascot's sensational romance of a detective and a girl attorney include Norman Foster and lovely Judith Allen.

"The Sagebrush Troubadour" is the second feature, starring Gene Autry. Western songs and action combine to give the story real old western atmosphere.

Dominion Books
Smart New Film

"Next Time We Love," starring Margaret Sullivan, will open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow. Based on the novel by Ursula Parrott, the film has been produced by Universal as a modern romantic drama with settings in New York, Russia, Siberia, China, Rome and Switzerland.

The story concerns a young couple, who try to pursue individual careers. There is a play within a play, portraying Margaret Sullivan as the star of a hit on Broadway. The dialogue, preserving the rich qualities of the novel, has been given new treatment by the director, Edward J. Grotzke, according to advance Hollywood bulletins.

The second feature will be "Don't Get Personal," a romantic comedy adventure starring James Dunn and Sally Eilers.

"The Man Who Broke the Bank of Monte Carlo" Opens Engagement Today

"The Man Who Broke the Bank of Monte Carlo," twentieth century's romantic comedy starring Ronald Colman, opened today at the Plaza Theatre.

It tells of an impoverished Russian prince who gambles his savings and those of his fellow-expatriates at Monte Carlo and wins 10,000,000 francs, breaking the bank. He divides half of his winnings among his friends and then uses the rest to pursue Joan Bennett, with whom he had fallen in love. Although hired to lure him back to the gambling tables, she falls in love with her intended victim.

A surprise finish is replete with thrills and heart-throbs.

The second feature is "One New York Night," a mystery story complete, with suspense, comedy and a delightful romance.

Introducing a new team to the public, Franchot Tone, romantic leading man and light comic, and Una Merkel, pretty comedienne, are co-featured in this film.

"Coppelia" Popular
With Anna Pavlova

Music-lovers will be interested to know the score of Leo Delibes' "Coppelia" will be presented over the radio tonight, during the Standard Symphony Hour from San Francisco.

This is perhaps the best-known of all ballet-operas and was for many years a great favorite with Pavlova. Although Delibes wrote serious music and many other ballets, he is, for most people, associated with the "Dance of the Hours," the "Valse Fous" and the gay "Carmen."

It will be presented in all its beauty of symphonic music, mime and dance by the Victoria Civic Opera Association, with Dorothy Wilson as ballet-mistress, at the Royal Victoria Theatre on May 22 and 23.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Beulah Bondi's versatility is again attested by her present role in support of Margaret Sullivan, star of Walter Wanger's "The Moon's Our Home," now showing at the Capitol Theatre. Recently seen as the emotional mountain mother in Paramount's "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," she plays the role of an almost acrobatic secretary to a vase-throwing, fiery-tempered screen actress in "The Moon's Our Home."

"The Moon's Our Home" is the screen dramatization of Faith Baldwin's story of two international celebrities who learn to hate each other by reputation.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a man, thirty-five, living at home with my widowed mother, who is a middle-aged woman in fine health and financially independent. My trouble is that my mother insists that I must never marry, but must always stay with her. Every time I have gone out with a girl she has had hysterics over it. Now I am in love with a splendid young woman and we want to be married, but when I try to talk the matter over with my mother she works herself into a passion of fury and cannot abuse the girl enough. I love my mother very much and want to do everything I can to take care of her and protect her, but I also love this girl and she loves me. What can a man, who is an only son, do under the circumstances, and still do his duty all around?

W. P. L.

Answer—He can act with some courage and common sense and the part of a man, instead of a fraidcat little boy. You can refuse to let a selfish and tyrannical old woman ruin your life and that of your fiancée by the utterly unreasonable position she has taken.

Your mother married when she was young. She had the happiness of having her own mate, her own home, her own child. She must have found these experiences very sweet, since she clings with such tenacity to what is left of them, and that makes it almost inexplicable that she is willing to deprive you of them in order that her old way of life may not be broken up. Certainly no real mother love could ask such a sacrifice of you. Nothing but self-centred egotism prompts it.

There are many of these possessive mothers who keep their sons from marrying and who, instead of being ashamed of the crime they have committed, boast of it and make repulsive jests about being their sons' best girls. Everywhere you can see dedicated old bachelors, who are neither flesh nor fowl nor good red herrings, dancing attendance upon mother, trotting her out to symphony concerts and the theatre and parties, fetching and carrying for her, and—dead-ends!—who are more than they would be to a wife. And a pitiable, bored-looking lot they are, too.

So my advice to you is to go on and marry your girl, no matter how much your mother opposes it. You have your duty to the girl and you have no right to break her heart by letting her, or wear her out in endless waiting for your mother to change her mind, which she will never do. She will never let you go. Have no more arguments with your mother on the subject. Just stop out quietly some day and marry the girl and from the train, when you start on your honeymoon, send your mother back a letter telling what you have done and why you did it. Cut her apron strings and be adult for the first time in your life.

Probably she will throw fits, weep and moan and call for public sympathy, which she won't get, but when her hysterics are over she will settle down and be just as happy as she would be if she were making you miserable. And when the first baby is born she will think she engineered the match herself. The most doting grandmother I know, and one who has found a new interest in life in her grandchildren, is a woman who kept her son from marrying for years by threatening to die with a bad heart if he so much as thought of marriage.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have a friend who should be happy as the day is long. Has a lovely home, a good husband, two beautiful children, scores of friends, yet she is so miserable she is contemplating suicide. And what do you think she is brooding about? She wants to be the thinnest person going, starves herself, hasn't eaten a square meal for ages and is so snappy she can't speak a kind word even to a little child. I think this is a mental state, though what brought it on I couldn't say. If she could only be jarred out of it I would be glad to do the jarring, but I don't know what to do. Can you suggest something?

MONICA.

Answer—Of course, what's the matter with her is hunger. People on a diet are always as irritable as cornered beasts. Semi-starvation has the same effect on humans as it does on other animals. It makes them snappy and snarly. We have to be well fed in order to be amiable.

Your friend seems to have an aggravated case of the living-skeleton complex and I doubt that there is any cure for that, since once a woman gets obsessed with the mania for reducing herself to a bag of bones she is deaf to the warnings of her physician and the pleas of her family, and blind to the ravages that malnutrition is making of her looks.

One glance at her haggard face, at her sagging cheeks, at the lines around her eyes and mouth and at her pasty complexion and one would think that she would make a grab for the mayonnaise jar and the whipped cream pot and gorge until she had filled out all her hollows and angles, and once more looked like blooming health and youth instead of a corpse that had just been dug up for the second autopsy.

But no, the reducer is wedded to her calories. When you point out to her how much older her face looks she says, "You know my string-bean figure," and there you are and nothing is to be done about it.

The only suggestion I can make to you about dealing with a woman who is willing to wreck her health and her family in order to be thin is to send for an alienist and have her head examined. Perhaps the idea of sending her to the home for the feeble-minded might jar her into using a little intelligence, if she has any.

DOROTHY DIX.

Uncle Wiggly And Jiggle

Jiggle Flatpaw, the little honey-bear (although no one knew he was coming), was very hungry. He ate and ate while the animal children waited to hear his story. Finally he licked the last bit of food from the plate—without realizing he was right for a real child to do that. He licked the plate, but was not wrong for a hungry honey-bear—and then sat back in his chair with a "Ha! Now I feel fine!"

"We're glad to hear it, Jiggle," Uncle Wiggly said. "Do you think you could tell us your story, or would you like some more to eat?"

"I think I've had quite sufficient," declared Jiggle. They could see he was proud of the word "sufficient," which means "enough." And Baby Busby smiled a real birthday smile at him. Then she asked:

"But what about the story? How did you happen to get here?"

"A-hem!" the honey-bear coughed, as some people do when they have something important to say. Jiggle was a queer little bear, but as nice as he could be. "You'll all be surprised to know that my home is far, far away from here, across the ocean."

FROM ACROSS THE OCEAN

"Across the ocean?" squealed Floppy Twinklitt, the pig boy. "You mean the ocean that big ships sail on to go to strange places?"

"Exactly," Jiggle declared. "But the places are only strange to people who haven't been there. Now my home is in Malaya. That's a land so far off that even if you counted by tens you would have a hard time counting all the miles. I lived there with my mother and father."

"But how did you find your way here?" Billie Bushytail inquired.

"That's the story!" Jiggle laughed. "You see, some men wanted my mother and father to come to the United States and go in a zoo."

"Which is where animals are kept so people can see them," Uncle Wiggly explained. "There is a zoo in Central Park in New York."

"Exactly," agreed Jiggle—a favorite word of his. "And I thought I'd just try a bit of adventuring. So I ran away. I jumped off the net-cord that was holding our cage to the zoo—I squeezed through the bars—I swam—I'm very good at squeezing through things. And here I am. And that's my story."

"It certainly is an exciting one," Uncle Wiggly said. "Did you like the boat trip, Jiggle?"

"It wasn't bad," replied the honey-bear. "I like it better. I wonder—"

"But just then Nurse Jane ran into the room."

"Uncle Wiggly!" she cried. "I think there is a Bad Chao outside! I think it's the Fox!"

"Someone you don't care much for?" Jiggle asked politely.

"Care for? I should say not!" the rabbit gentleman shivered. "It's coming here. Nurse Jane!"

"I'm afraid so—"

JIGGLE HAS AN IDEA

"Let me try an idea," Jiggle suggested. "It may not work, but I've always wanted to try it. I'll be back soon!"

And before they could stop him he sprang out of the bungalow.

They watched him from the window.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

FRIEDAY, MAY 14, 1936

Adverse planetary alignments today, according to astrology, is a time of mental confusion, sudden enthusiasms and contrasting passions.

Women are believed to be more fortunate than men, and they should make the best of whatever opportunities come to them today. This configuration promises plenty of heartache.

There is a good sign for those who make brief journeys. It is a favorable day for calling on relatives and friends. The young should find many joys in social affairs.

Bad news of some sort may disturb the average person today, but those who have attained high places will not be affected. Despite all the agitation about writing and unearned wealth, safety and protection are indicated for the few who are darlings of the gods.

Speculation and gambling now will tempt thousands who assume an attitude of indifference toward the future. Those who have the habit of speculating should conserve their resources and cultivate intelligent thrift.

Stability in the money markets is to be attained within this year, which bodes much for the future. It is a sign of progress for the nations.

Next month is to be a period of anxiety, for the total eclipse of the sun on the nineteenth of June is supposed to herald a time of trouble. June may be unpropitious for farming and stock-raising. The season of June is supposed to herald a time of trouble. June may be unpropitious for farming and stock-raising. The season of June is supposed to herald a time of trouble.

Persons whose birthdate is 11 have the worst of it. They should be careful to safeguard their papers. The year will be cautious in writing letters.

Children born on this day probably will be studious and serious in nature. The signs of this sign usually are practical, and the children will be successful in big business.

Joseph Medill McCormick was born on this day, 1872. Others who have celebrated a birthday include Philip D. Armour, merchant, 1831; Thomas Lake Harris, spiritualist, 1837; and Edwin Martin Shepard, geologist, 1854.
